, Well-Being in the Library Workplace Bobbi L. Newman, 2025-03-12 Fostering well being in today's library workplaces is no longer a luxury but a necessity particularly for managers tasked with guiding and supporting their teams. Amidst budget cuts, attempts to ban or restrict books, attacks on library staff online and in person, and potentially hostile and aggressive patrons, taking care of ourselves and our staff by putting good policies and practices into place is more important than ever. In this book, Newman and her expert contributors will lead you through creating an environment that nurtures the health, satisfaction, and well-being of its workers and helps prevent or reduce the internal factors that create an unhealthy workplace. You will receive actionable advice on navigating the pitfalls of vocational awe which can lead to unrealistic expectations and self-neglect, setting and recalibrating healthy boundaries, approaching difficult conversations by creating spaces for positive staff communication, overcoming limited budgets, the proper mindset for encouraging realistic performance expectations among employees using recognition, appreciation, and staff professional development as tools for wellness, nurturing social connections and collaboration to combat loneliness, effective techniques for addressing sensitive issues such as disabilities, confronting anti-fat bias and moral injury, emotional and invisible labor mitigation, and self-care methods for library leaders at risk of burnout. Megacity Mobility Zongzhi Li, Adrian T. Moore, Samuel R. Staley, 2021-12-14 World population growth and economic prosperity have given rise to ever-increasing demands on cities' transportation planning and goods movement. This growth coupled with a slower pace of transportation capacity expansion and deteriorated facility restoration has led to rapid changes in the transportation planning and policy environment. These stresses are particularly acute for megacities where degradation of mobility and facility performance have reached alarming rates. Addressing these transportation challenges requires innovative solutions. Megacity Mobility grapples with these challenges by addressing transportation policy, planning, and facilities in a multimodal context. It discusses innovative short and long-term solutions for meeting current and future mobility needs for the world's most dynamic cities by addressing the influence of urban land use on mobility, 3D spiderweb transportation planning, travel demand management, multimodal transportation with flexible capacity, efficient capacity utilization driven by new technologies, innovative transportation funding and financing, and performance-based budget allocation using asset management principles. It discusses emerging issues, highlights potential challenges affecting proposed solutions, and provides policymakers, planners, and transportation professionals a road map to achieving sustainable mobility in the 21st century. Zongzhi Li is a professor and the director of the Sustainable Transportation and Infrastructure Research (STAIR) Center at Illinois Institute of Technology (IIT). Adrian T. Moore is vice president of policy at Reason Foundation in Washington, D.C., with focuses on privatization, transportation, and urban growth, and more. Samuel R. Staley is the director of the DeVoe L.
