History

Boy Scouts

Scouting was officially founded in British India in 1909, first starting at the Bishop Cotton Boys' School in Bangalore. Scouting for native Indians was started by Justice Vivian Bose, Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya, Pandit Hridayanath Kunera, Girija Shankar Bajpai, Annie Besant and George Arundale, in 1913. Prior to this date, Scouting was open only for British and foreign Scouts. In 1916, a Cub section was started, followed by the Rover section in 1918.

In 1916, Calcutta's Senior Deputy Commissioner of Police J. S. Wilson introduced Scouting for Boys as a textbook in the Calcutta Police Training School. Colonel Wilson volunteered his services to the District Scout Commissioner, Alfred Pickford, and in 1917 became Assistant Scoutmaster of the Old Mission Church Troop. Together the two struggled for the admission of Indian boys into the Boy Scouts Association, which had not been admitted due to a Government of India order against it because "Scouting might train them to become revolutionaries". Shortly Wilson was acting as Cubmaster and Scoutmaster, and succeeded Pickford as District Commissioner in May 1919 when Pickford was promoted to Chief Scout Commissioner for India.

Guiding Modern Girls Kristine Alexander, 2017-11-15 Across the British Empire and the world the 1920s and 1930s were a time of unprecedented social and cultural change. Girls and young women were at the heart of many of these shifts which included the aftermath of the First World War, the enfranchisement of women and the rise of the flapper or Modern Girl. Out of this milieu the Girl Guide movement emerged as a response to popular concerns about age, gender, race, class and social instability. The British based Guide movement attracted more than a million members in over forty countries during the interwar years. Its success however was neither simple nor straightforward. Using an innovative multi-sited approach, Kristine Alexander digs deeper to analyze the ways in which Guiding sought to mold young people in England, Canada and India. She weaves together a fascinating account that connects the histories of girlhood, internationalism and empire while asking how girls and young women understood and responded to Guiding's attempts to lead them toward a service-oriented, useful, feminine future.

Scouting for Girls Tammy M. Proctor, 2009-09-23 This volume examines scouting, the largest voluntary movement for girls in its first century of existence, seeking to understand how the organization has lasted and how it has changed. Scouting for Girls: A Century of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts is the first global history of Girl Scouting and Guiding that addresses the successes and pitfalls of the 100-year-old organization from its beginning in Great Britain through its international expansion. Since 1910, millions of girls worldwide have been exposed to Scouting. While much has changed since 1910, the core values of Scouting/Guiding are still recognizable in today's programs: namely, the empowerment of girls through adventure, character building, home skills, outdoor pursuits and active learning. But has Scouting's very willingness to change with the times undermined its original ideologies and fundamentally changed the movement? As Girl Scouts and Guides move into their second century, their challenge will be to remain true to their founding values while remaking themselves on a regular basis. Given the changing nature of today's societies and the serious problems girls face on a daily basis, Girl Guides and Girl Scouts will need to be true to their motto, Be Prepared, in order to march forward successfully into the future.
