Believing Is Seeing Creating The Culture Of Art:

Believing Is Seeing Mary Anne Staniszewski, 1995-01-01 Why are the paleolithic Venus of Willendorf Michelangelo's Sistine Chapel frescoes and Marcel Duchamp's ready-made urinal all considered works of art? Why, strictly speaking, is a Cindy Sherman photograph more art-like than a Da Vinci portrait? How did the painters and sculptors of the Renaissance see their creations? And who decides what art is today? In the tradition of Marshall McLuhan and John Berger, this learned and deliciously subversive book gives us a new way of seeing our artistic heritage. Believing Is Seeing is a work of multicultural scope and glittering intelligence that bridges the gulf between classical Japanese painting and the films of Spike Lee, between high theory and pop culture. Probing beyond the rhetorical surface of standard art histories and drawing on a panoramic array of illustrative material, Mary Anne Staniszewski throws a fresh light on individual works and the often mystifying criteria by which they are valued.

Believng Is Seeing Creatg the Culture of Art STANISZEWSKI, 2003-11 The Culture Struggle Michael Parenti, 2011-01-04 One of America's most astute and engaging political analysts, Michael Parenti shows us that culture is a changing process and the product of a dynamic interplay between a wide range of social and political interests. Drawing from cultures around the world, Parenti shows that beliefs and practices are readily subjected to political manipulation and that many parts of culture are being commodified, separated from their group or communal origins to be packaged and sold to those who can pay for them. Folk culture is giving way to a corporate market culture. Art, science, medicine, and psychiatry can be used as instruments of cultural control, and even marriage, the foundation of society, has been misused by heterosexuals across the centuries. Using vivid examples and riveting arguments throughout, ranging from the everyday to the esoteric and penned with eloquence and irony, The Culture Struggle presents a collection of snapshots of our time.

Coming Home! Carol Crown, 2004 A fascinating examination of the Bible's influence on seventy-three self-taught artists and 122 works of art.

Arts Management Carla Walter, 2015-05-22 Arts Management is designed as an upper-division undergraduate and graduate-level text that covers the principles of arts management. It is the most comprehensive up-to-date and technologically advanced textbook on arts management on the market. While the book does include the background necessary for understanding the global arts marketplace, it assumes that cultural fine arts come to fruition through entrepreneurial processes and that cultural fine arts organizations have to be entrepreneurial to thrive. Many cases and examples of successful arts organizations from the United States and abroad appear in every chapter. A singular strength of Arts Management is the author's skilful use of in-text tools to facilitate reader interest and engagement. These include learning objectives, chapter summaries, discussion questions, and exercises, case studies, and numerous examples and cultural spotlights. Online instructor's materials with PowerPoints are available to adopters.

Land and Spirit in Native America Joy Porter, 2012-05-04 This book accurately depicts Native American approaches to land and spirituality through an interdisciplinary examination of Indian philosophy, history, and literature. Indian approaches to land and spirituality are neither simple nor monolithic making them hard to grasp for outsiders A fuller more accurate understanding of these concepts enables comprehension of the unique ways land and spirit have interlinked Native American communities across centuries of civilization and reveals insights about our current pressing environmental concerns and American history In Land and Spirit in Native America author Joy Porter argues that American colonization has been a determining factor in how we perceive Indian spirituality and Indian relationships to nature Having an appreciation for these traditional values regarding ritual memory time kinship and the essential reciprocity between all things allows us to rethink aspects of history and culture This understanding also makes Indian film philosophy literature and art accessible

Contesting Art Jeremy MacClancy, 2020-08-27 Art is a major political weapon of our times Today peoples around the world use art to boost their own identity and to attack the ways others represent them At a time of increasing intercultural exchange art has become a primary means through which groups reinforce their challenged sense of culture This pioneering book breaks with the tradition of the anthropology of art as the depoliticized study of aesthetics in exotic settings Transcending artificial distinctions between the West and the Rest it examines the increasingly significant relations among art identity and politics in the modern world Among the themes investigated by the contributors how African painters undermine racist stereotypes yet remain dominated by the Western art market the role of anthropology museums in the perpetuation of the Western market in tribal art the internal and external political disputes underlying the repatriation of cultural property
