Introduction

Why Do Bible Study?

The Bible Is Inspired by God

All Scripture is inspired by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for training in righteousness (2 Timothy 3:16)

The word "inspiration" in 2 Timothy 3:16 is in the original Greek, theopneustos, which literally means "God-breathed." For Scripture to be breathed by God suggests that it originated from God's breath as that it is the Word of God. Indeed, the term "Word of God" is used synonymously with the Scriptures throughout the Bible (e.g., John 1:1-5).

The Mechanics of Inspiration

There are numerous theories of how inspiration took place, including the following:

- Verbal inspiration – Human authors were inspired in such by God in the same way that a poet might be inspired to write poetry by natural forces or conditions.
- Spiritual inspiration – Human authors themselves are inspired by God in the same way God inspires any Christian today through the activity of the Holy Spirit.
- Conceptual inspiration – God inspired human authors with the general concepts of the message, but left the words and details to the author.
- Verbal inspiration – God inspired human authors with each word, corresponding even the details.
- Divine dictation – Human authors just took dictation from God as he spoke.

The best description of the process is found in 2 Peter 1:21, as he describes the process of prophesy being given to human authors:

For no prophecy ever came by the will of man, but men moved by the Holy Spirit spoke from God (2 Peter 1:21)

Inspiration means, then, that the decision to write is given from God. The human authors were used to speak as from God as the Holy Spirit moved them along. This indicates direct dictation, as it is the most often quoted. Furthermore, this indicates verbal inspiration, as it has a divine origin. Spiritual inspiration would mean the scriptures had no more authority than any "leading" human voices, which would contradict the authority attributed to Scripture by Jesus and Paul.

This focus on verbal inspiration and verbal inspiration both suggest that human authors were involved in the writing, and that the individual permission and action of the authors were enough in the process. Moreover, God sustained the human author to write, and the message was
