Musgrave, 2025-04-08 This book examines how the Roman French and English legal systems have each dealt with the issue of unforeseen supervening events which have rendered the performance of contractual obligations either impossible or fundamentally different in nature sometimes known as Force Majeure or Acts of God Although the Roman French and English laws of contract have each developed legal rules which address this issue the approach adopted by each system is significantly different from that of the others The thesis of this book is that the response of a legal system to unforeseen supervening events derives primarily from the nature and structure of that legal system as a whole and then within that broader context from the salient characteristics of that system s particular law of contract The work compares the differing nature and structure of the Roman French and English legal systems and their respective laws of contract in order to demonstrate how this is so The book will be a valuable guide for academics and researchers working in the areas of Comparative Law Legal History Legal Theory and Contract Law As the English approach to unforeseen supervening events is very different from that of the French the book will be of benefit both to English and to French practitioners as they seek to understand how supervening events are dealt with across the Channel It will also appeal to law students as a guide for studying comparative law Contract Law Ewan McKendrick, 2023-04-06 The 15th edition of Ewan McKendrick KC s bestselling textbook is the go to resource for all students of contract law It combines a clear and straightforward account of basic doctrines including consideration and illegality with up to date coverage of more recent developments such as the recent Supreme Court and Privy Council decisions dealing with economic duress and the interpretation of exclusion and limitation clauses Other contemporary considerations covered include the application of the doctrine of frustration to contracts which have been impacted by the COVID 19 pandemic and the scope of the doctrines of mistake and misrepresentation Packed with a range of pedagogical features from hot topic discussion boxes to end of chapter summaries and exercises this straightforward and stimulating text is the essential learning companion for students undertaking undergraduate law degrees the GDL CPE modules or other equivalent contract law courses The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2001 Law Books Published ,1998 Law Books in Print: Subject
