Crew Rostering Jeppesen:

Airline Operations and Scheduling Massoud Bazargan, 2016-03-23 Operations research techniques are extremely important tools for planning airline operations. However, much of the technical literature on airline optimization models is highly specialized and accessible only to a limited audience. Allied to this, there is a concern among the operations research community that the materials offered in OR courses at MBA or senior undergraduate business level are too abstract, outdated, and at times irrelevant to today's fast and dynamic airline industry. This book demystifies the operations and scheduling environment, presenting simplified and easy-to-understand models applied to straightforward and practical examples. After introducing the key issues confronting operations and scheduling within airlines, Airline Operations and Scheduling goes on to provide an objective review of the various optimization models adopted in practice. Each model provides airlines with efficient solutions to a range of scenarios and is accompanied by case studies similar to those experienced by commercial airlines. Using unique source material and combining interviews with alumni working at operations and scheduling departments of various airlines, this solution-oriented approach has been used on many courses with outstanding feedback. As well as having been comprehensively updated, this second edition of Airline Operations and Scheduling adds new chapters on fuel management systems, baggage handling, aircraft maintenance planning, and aircraft boarding strategies. The readership includes graduate and undergraduate business management, transportation, and engineering students; airlines training and acquainting new recruits with operations planning and scheduling processes; general aviation flight school; International Air Transport Association (IATA) and International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) training course instructors; executive jet, chartered flight, air cargo, and package delivery companies; and airline consultants.

Planning and Scheduling in Manufacturing and Services Michael L. Pinedo, 2009-10-03 This book focuses on planning and scheduling applications. Planning and scheduling are forms of decision making that play an important role in most manufacturing and services industries. The planning and scheduling functions in a company typically use analytical techniques and heuristic methods to allocate its limited resources to the activities that have to be done. The application areas considered in this book are divided into manufacturing applications and services applications. The book covers five areas in manufacturing: project scheduling, job shop scheduling, scheduling of flexible assembly systems, economic lot scheduling, and planning and scheduling in supply chains. It covers four areas in services: reservations and timetabling, tournament scheduling, planning and scheduling in transportation, and workforce scheduling. At the end of each chapter, a case study or a system implementation is described in detail. Numerous examples and exercises throughout the book illustrate the material presented. The fundamentals concerning the methodologies used in the application chapters are covered in the appendices. The book comes with extra material on <http://extras.springer.com> that contains various sets of PowerPoint slides. The extra material also contains several planning and scheduling systems that have been developed in academia, as well as generic optimization software that has been developed in industry This book is suitable for more advanced students in industrial engineering and operations research as well as graduate students in business Michael Pinedo is the Julius Schlesinger Professor of Operations Management in the Stern School of Business at New York University His research interests lie in the theoretical and applied aspects of planning and scheduling He has written numerous papers on the theory of deterministic and stochastic scheduling and has also consulted extensively in industry He has been actively involved in the development of several large industrial planning and scheduling systems

Artificial Intelligence in Commercial Aviation Ricardo V. Pilon, 2023-07-10 This book is a must read for aviation managers and all stakeholders that are interested in improving the business performance of airlines In this book the first of its kind on AI in Commercial Aviation the author outlines how Machine Learning and AI are accelerating and improving the performance of airlines Moreover the author shares insights into many new use cases that emerging technology can deliver He tackles all crucial functions from air navigation flight operations to sales distribution cargo retailing and commercial optimization He then looks forward to blockchain and the metaverse and its opportunities With connected devices and the Internet of Everything IoE airlines can become retailers sell deliver and service holistic experiences tailored to individuals in real time This requires airlines to modernize processes and practices supported by decision intelligence AI that ingests sophisticated insights and executes service automation in real time Transforming airlines from a production to a services based execution also requires departments to be aligned along overriding customer experience and profitability goals The book demonstrates how AI can be deployed to redesign airline organization as well The author also describes the next wave of business transformation around the integration of commercial functions using Composite AI at enterprise level With his holistic understanding and experience in the airline industry the author provides valuable insights and helps managers understand how to embrace ML and AI and contribute to future commercial aviation and cargo success

Quantitative Problem Solving Methods in the Airline Industry Cynthia Barnhart, Barry Smith, 2011-12-21 This book reviews operations research theory applications and practice in airline planning and operations It examines the business and technical landscape details best practices and identifies open questions and areas for future research

Algorithmic Methods for Railway Optimization Frank Geraets, Leo Kroon, Anita Schoebel, Dorothea Wagner, Christos Zaroliagis, 2007-09-14 This state of the art survey features papers that were selected after an open call following the International Dagstuhl Seminar on Algorithmic Methods for Railway Optimization The second part of the volume constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 4th International Workshop on Algorithmic Methods and Models for Optimization of Railways The 17 full papers presented here were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions
