Transformations and Changing Perspectives in Higher Education Kennedy Thomas,Joseph Chennattuserry,Joseph Kureethara,2025-03-24 This book reveals the intricacies of the Indian education system especially those that surged in the past decade It covers several perspectives of global higher education wherein the dynamic trends and frameworks are explicated for a better understanding of the curriculum design and delivery of higher education in India It facilitates students learning and experiences wherein the post pandemic insights for learning from remote locations could be gleaned This volume looks at the complexities in the functioning of educational institutions and suggests novel approaches and interventions that are crucial for the educational framework of India. It attempts to draw theoretical implications of the educational system and uses empirical evidence for recommending actionable processes. As a multidisciplinary work covering international policies and global perspectives on higher education, this book would be useful to students, teachers of education, political science, public administration, international relations, economics, psychology, cognitive science, life skills education, counselling, sociology, gender studies, social work, performing arts, and disaster management. It will also be an indispensable resource for researchers, academicians, professionals, government, and policy makers of the country and the world at large.

Internationalising Programmes in Higher Education

Jeanine Gregersen-Hermans, Karen M. Lauridsen, 2021-06-29 This book addresses challenges that higher education institutions face when bridging the gap between internationalisation as a key university strategy and their delivery of interculturally competent and responsible graduates. Combining international case studies and research outcomes, it provides an in-depth understanding of the role educational developers can play in the internationalisation of higher education and in the provision of an internationalised learning experience for all students. The book situates international education in global and local contexts and contributes to the design and delivery of internationalised curricula in very concrete terms. In doing so, it suggests how academic staff may enhance the quality of their programmes by leveraging the opportunities of international classrooms where students have diverse academic, linguistic and cultural backgrounds. The content of the book is therefore also foundational for continuing professional development (CPD) programmes that enhance staff competences for designing and teaching inclusive internationalised programmes and include topics such as:

- An international competence profile for educational developers
- Intercultural competence as a graduate attribute
- Internationalised curriculum design and delivery
- Intercultural group dynamics
- The role of languages in internationalised higher education classrooms
- Reflective processes for teaching and learning in the international classroom

This book is essential reading and a go-to resource for any academic looking to internationalise their education programmes. It will also be of interest to those directly involved in curriculum development, learning and teaching, as well as those who have more strategic responsibilities within and beyond HEIs or who are involved in higher education research.
