Advanced Newsletter Business Ideas Tips For Teachers:

Authoring A Discipline Maureen Daly Goggin, 2000-05-01 Authoring a Discipline traces the post World War II emergence of rhetoric and composition as a discipline within departments of English in institutions of higher education in the United States Goggin brings to light both the evolution of this discipline and many of the key individuals involved in its development Drawing on archival and oral evidence this history offers a comprehensive and systematic investigation of scholarly journals the editors who directed them and the authors who contributed to them demonstrating the influence that publications and participants have had in the emergence of rhetoric and composition as an independent field of study Goggin considers the complex struggles in which scholars and teachers engaged to stake ground and to construct a professional and disciplinary identity She identifies major debates and controversies that ignited as the discipline emerged and analyzes how the editors and contributors to the major scholarly journals helped to shape and in turn were shaped by the field of rhetoric and composition She also coins a new term disciplinographer to describe those who write the field through authoring and authorizing work thus creating the social and political contexts in which the discipline emerged The research presented here demonstrates clearly how disciplines are social products born of political struggles for both intellectual and material spaces

Cycles of Poverty and Crime in America's Inner Cities
Lewis D. Solomon, 2012-08-14 Despite the best hopes of the past half century black urban pathologies persist in America The inner cities remain concentrations of the uneducated unemployed underemployed and unemployable Many fail to stay in school and others choose lives of drugs violence and crime Most do not marry leading to single parent households and children without a father figure The cycle repeats itself generation after generation It is easy to argue that nothing works given the policy failures of the past For Lewis D Solomon fatalism is not acceptable A complex and interrelated web of issues plague inner city black males joblessness the failure of public education crime mass incarceration and drugs the collapse of married two parent families and negative cultural messages Rather than abandon the black urban underclass Solomon presents strategies and programs to rebuild lives and revitalize America s inner cities These approaches are neither government oriented nor dependent on federal intervention and they are not futuristic Focusing on rehabilitative efforts

Solomon describes workforce development prisoner reentry and the role of nonprofit organizations Solomon s strategies focus on the need to improve the quality of America s workforce through building human capital at the socioeconomic bottom The goal is to enable more people to fend for themselves thereby weaning them from dependency on public sector handouts Solomon shows a path forward for inner city black males Engineering News-record ,1921 Railway News, Finance and Joint-stock Companies' Journal ,1914 Insurance News ,1918 The Paper Mill and Wood Pulp News ,1921
