suffered severe emotional problems What was going on Conversations with educators and clinicians across the country as well as meticulous research confirmed Levine's suspicions that something was terribly amiss Numerous studies show that privileged adolescents are experiencing epidemic rates of depression anxiety disorders and substance abuse rates that are higher than those of any other socioeconomic group of young people in this country The various elements of a perfect storm materialism pressure to achieve perfectionism disconnection are combining to create a crisis in America's culture of affluence This culture is as unmanageable for parents mothers in particular as it is for their children While many privileged kids project confidence and know how to make a good impression alarming numbers lack the basic foundation of psychological development an authentic sense of self Even parents often miss the signs of significant emotional problems in their star children In this controversial look at privileged families Levine offers thoughtful practical advice as she explodes one child rearing myth after another With empathy and candor she identifies parenting practices that are toxic to healthy self development and that have contributed to epidemic levels of depression anxiety and substance abuse in the most unlikely place the affluent family
