Convicting The Innocent Where Criminal Prosecutions Go Wrong:

Convicting the Innocent Brandon L. Garrett, 2012-09-03 On January 20 1984 Earl Washington defended for all of forty minutes by a lawyer who had never tried a death penalty case was found guilty of rape and murder in the state of Virginia and sentenced to death After nine years on death row DNA testing cast doubt on his conviction and saved his life However he spent another eight years in prison before more sophisticated DNA technology proved his innocence and convicted the guilty man DNA exonerations have shattered confidence in the criminal justice system by exposing how often we have convicted the innocent and let the guilty walk free In this unsettling in depth analysis Brandon Garrett examines what went wrong in the cases of the first 250 wrongfully convicted people to be exonerated by DNA testing Based on trial transcripts Garrett s investigation into the causes of wrongful convictions reveals larger patterns of incompetence abuse and error Evidence corrupted by suggestive eyewitness procedures coercive interrogations unsound and unreliable forensics shoddy investigative practices cognitive bias and poor lawyering illustrates the weaknesses built into our current criminal justice system Garrett proposes practical reforms that rely more on documented recorded and audited evidence and less on fallible human memory Very few crimes committed in the United States involve biological evidence that can be tested using DNA How many unjust convictions are there that we will never discover Convicting the Innocent makes a powerful case for systemic reforms to improve the accuracy of all criminal cases Wrongful Convictions and the DNA Revolution Daniel S. Medwed, 2017-03-30 This book examines the lessons learned from twenty five years of using DNA to free innocent prisoners and identifies lingering challenges University of Chicago Law Review: Volume 79, Number 2 - Spring 2012 University of Chicago Law Review, 2012-11-22 A leading law review offers a quality eBook edition This second issue of 2012 features articles and essays from internationally recognized legal scholars Authors include Eric Biber writing on variations in scientific disciplines experts and environmental law Frederic Bloom and Christopher Serkin on suing courts and takings of property Myriam Gilles and Gary Friedman on aggregating consumer litigation after the AT and David Skeel Jr on the possibility of bankruptcy for several U S states In addition the issue includes book review essays by Aziz Huq concerning the power and limits of the executive branch and by Laura Nirider Joshua Tepfer and Steven Drizin on convicting the innocent and false confessions Finally an extensive student contribution explores antitrust law state immunity from suit and state licensing boards In the eBook edition Tables of Contents are active including those for individual articles footnotes are fully linked and properly numbered graphs and figures are reproduced legibly URLs in footnotes are active and proper eBook formatting is used Wrongful Convictions in China Na Jiang, 2016-08-08 The primary focus of this comparative and empirical work is to address wrongful convictions between China and common law countries in order to promote a better understanding of wrongful convictions in China s practice with the help of comparative analyses verifiable and empirical data and case studies It examines the scope of wrongful convictions and offers new insights into the worldwide movement to prevent them assesses how far it has progressed and what reforms are most needed The book suggests that adversarial and inquisitorial systems alike could benefit from this research and learn valuable lessons from one another on how to effectively reduce the risk of wrongful convictions People of the State of Illinois V. Belknap, 2013 Bringing Ben Home Barbara Bradley Hagerty, 2024-08-06 How states are making their legal systems more equitable seen through the story of a Black man falsely imprisoned for thirty years for murder In 1987 Ben Spencer a twenty two year old Black man from Dallas was convicted of murdering white businessman Jeffrey Young a crime he didn't commit From the day of his arrest Spencer insisted that it was an awful mistake The Texas legal system didn't see it that way It allowed shoddy police work paid witnesses and prosecutorial misconduct to convict Spencer of murder and it ignored later efforts to correct this error The state's bureaucratic intransigence caused Spencer to spend more than half his life in prison Eventually independent investigators new witness testimony the foreman of the jury that convicted him and a new Dallas DA convinced a Texas judge that Spencer had nothing to do with the killing and in 2021 he was released from prison As Spencer's fight to clear himself demonstrates our legal systems are broken expedience is more important than the truth That is starting to change as states across the country implement new efforts to reduce wrongful convictions and one of the states leading the way is Texas Award winning journalist Barbara Bradley Hagerty has spent years digging into this issue and she has immersed herself in Spencer's case She has combed police files and court records interviewed dozens of witnesses and had extensive conversations with Spencer and in Bringing Ben Home she threads together two narratives how an innocent Black man got caught up in and couldn't escape a legal system that refused to admit its mistakes and what Texas and other states are doing to address wrongful convictions to make the legal process more equitable for everyone By turns fascinating and enraging personal and provocative Bringing Ben Home is the powerful story of one innocent man who refused to admit that he was guilty of murder and how his plight became part of a paradigm shift in how the legal system thinks about innocence as it institutes new methods to overturn wrongful convictions to better protect people like Ben Spencer Questioning Capital Punishment James R. Acker, 2014-06-13 The death penalty has inspired controversy for centuries Raising questions regarding capital punishment rather than answering them Questioning Capital Punishment offers the footing needed to allow for more informed consideration and analysis of these controversies Acker edits judicial decisions that have addressed constitutional challenges to capital punishment and its administration in the United States and uses complementary materials to offer historical empirical and normative perspectives about death penalty policies and practices This book is ideal for upper level undergraduate and graduate classes in criminal justice Evidence Andrew L.-T. Choo, 2018 Andrew Choo's Evidence provides a lucid and concise account of the principles of the law of civil and criminal evidence in England and Wales Critical and thought provoking it is the ideal text for undergraduate law students Evidence Andrew Choo, 2021 Choo's Evidence provides a lucid and analytical account of the principles of the law of evidence in England and Wales Succinct critical and

Death Penalty Noël Merino,2015 A compendium of opinion surrounding the death penalty including its ethics public service application and reformation possibilities Death Penalty and the Victims Ivan Šimonović,2016 This book includes perspectives from a broad range of victims including family members of the crime victims convicted persons whose rights are violated by the justice system through wrongful convictions unequal and discriminatory application of justice lack of a due process imposition for crimes that do not meet the most serious crimes threshold or to the categories of perpetrators that should be protected from the death penalty minors persons with mental or intellectual disabilities pregnant women as well as third parties including family members of the convicted person especially children and primary caretakers and persons included in criminal proceedings or executions such as prosecutors judges lawyers and executioners It is argued in this thought provoking book that the states right to execute violates the right to life and negatively reflects on human rights of its citizens in general University of British Columbia Law Review University of British Columbia,2014 Smoke but No Fire Jessica S. Henry,2020-08-04 2020 Foreword INDIES Book of the Year Awards Winner Silver Political and Social Sciences Winner of the Montaigne Medal awarded to the most thought provoking books The first book to explore a shocking yet all too common type of wrongful conviction one that locks away innocent people for crimes that never actually happened Rodricus Crawford was convicted and sentenced to die for the murder by suffocation of his beautiful baby boy After years on death row evidence confirmed what Crawford had claimed all along he was innocent and his son had died from an undiagnosed illness Crawford is not alone A full one third of all known exonerations stem from no crime wrongful convictions The first book to explore this common but previously undocumented type of wrongful conviction Smoke but No Fire tells the heartbreaking stories of innocent people convicted of crimes that simply never happened A suicide is mislabeled a homicide An accidental fire is mislabeled an arson Corrupt police plant drugs on an innocent suspect A false allegation of assault is invented to resolve a custody dispute With this book former New York City public defender Jessica S Henry sheds essential light on a deeply flawed criminal justice system that allows even encourages these convictions to regularly occur Smoke but No Fire promises to be eye opening reading for legal professionals students activists and the general public alike as it grapples with the chilling reality that far too many innocent people spend real years behind bars for fictional crimes Blind Injustice Mark Godsey,2019-02-05 In this unprecedented view from the trenches prosecutor turned champion for the innocent Mark Godsey takes us inside the frailties of the human mind as they unfold in real world wrongful convictions Drawing upon stories from his own career Godsey shares how innate psychological flaws in judges police lawyers and juries coupled with a tough on crime environment can cause investigations to go awry leading to the convictions of innocent people

In Blind Injustice Godsey explores distinct psychological human weaknesses inherent in the criminal justice system: confirmation bias, memory malleability, cognitive dissonance, bureaucratic denial, dehumanization, and others, and illustrates each with stories from his time as a hard-nosed prosecutor and then as an attorney for the Ohio Innocence Project. He also lays bare the criminal justice system's internal political pressures. How does the fact that judges, sheriffs, and prosecutors are elected officials influence how they view cases? How can defense attorneys support clients when many are overworked and underpaid? And how do juries overcome bias leading them to believe that police and expert witnesses know more than they do about what evidence means? This book sheds a harsh light on the unintentional yet routine injustices committed by those charged with upholding justice. Yet in the end, Godsey recommends structural, procedural, and attitudinal changes aimed at restoring justice to the criminal justice system.
