Counter-terrorism and Humanitarian Action Sara Pantuliano, Overseas Development Institute (London, England). Humanitarian Policy Group, 2011 This HPG Policy Brief examines the impact of certain counter terrorism laws and other measures both international and national on humanitarian action It is based on a review of the literature a series of interviews with donors UN agencies and NGOs and a roundtable event organized with the Inter Agency Standing Committee IASC in February 2011 The Policy Brief begins by outlining the evolution and content of counter terrorism laws and their impact on donor policies and program funding It then discusses the implications for principled humanitarian action These are explored in greater detail in two case studies covering Somalia and Gaza

Counter-Terrorism Financing and Iran Zeynab Malakouti Khah, 2023-10-20 This book blends doctrinal and empirical research to examine the phenomenon of counter terrorism financing at the level of both international and Iranian national law The work discusses the legitimacy fairness and effectiveness of the international counter terrorism financing framework and then examines to what extent Iran has implemented it. The main focuses of the book are on the criminalisation of terrorism financing financial regulations as preventive measures applied to the sectors at risk of terrorism financing including the formal financial system the informal financial system and the non profit organisations and the international and unilateral sanctions imposed on individuals and entities who support terrorist acts terrorists and terrorist organisations. Given that terrorism and terrorism financing are socio legal political and economic phenomena in nature the book approaches the problem of terrorism financing from an interdisciplinary perspective exploring the relationship between the characteristics of Iran as a state recognised for supporting non state militant actors NSMAs some of which are designated as terrorist by some countries. Empirical research includes documentary fieldwork in Iran with the collection of original and primary materials that have not previously been analysed. The book also adopts a policy transfer approach using the rules and regulations of the United Kingdom. Presenting a non Western perspective on counter terrorism financing the book will be essential reading for students researchers and policy makers working in the area of financial crime.

Extremisms in Africa Volume 2 Alain Tschudin, Craig Moffat, Stephen Buchanan-Clarke, Susan Russell, Lloyd Coutts, 2019-06-18

Over the past two decades the rapid emergence and spread of both local and transnational extremist organisations has become a primary source of insecurity in Africa. Extremist organisations represent the fluid and variable nature of conflict systems today and are at the heart of some of Africa's most enduring conflicts. Moreover the inability of African states to contain the threat of extremism or of heavy handed security responses has led to the loss of thousands of lives displaced millions and deeply impacted the continent's democratisation and development goals. This is the second anthology published by Good Governance Africa GGA on the topic of extremism and political violence in Africa. Extremisms in Africa one of the first anthologies of its kind on this topic to be authored and published on the African continent provided an account of how extremist groups arose in Africa and the various ways in which they have harnessed their global agendas to local conflict dynamics and structural challenges enabling them to exploit the grievances of individuals and communities for their cause. This anthology Extremisms in Africa Volume 2 looks forward giving special attention to the ways in which emergent trends global geopolitics and conflict dynamics merge to impact upon the African continent. To this end we have sought to engage diverse topics ranging from ecological concerns surrounding climate change and migration the implications of such human movement for modern day trafficking and slavery and the roles of women and youth. State responses to extremism on the African continent are not uniform the capacity of individual states to detect identify police investigate and prosecute is highly variable. At the most fundamental level extremism is ripe to arise in contexts where governments are failing especially when democracy is on the wane. This anthology identifies some of the most pressing challenges in addressing extremism today and provides chapters that could offer actionable policy insights to governments and civil society. Given the nature of Africa's geopolitical landscape state and security services alone cannot prevent extremism It will take a whole of society approach where government civil society academia communities families and individuals collaborate to better understand the local dynamics of recruitment and radicalisation and develop context specific strategies in response This anthology will hopefully provide practitioners with improved insight into some of the key challenges and potential solutions in preventing extremism while also being of interest to the general reader
