Controlling Air Movement A For Architects And Builders:

Controlling Air Movement Terry S. Boutet, 1987-01-01 Bioclimatic Approaches in Urban and Building Design

Giacomo Chiesa, 2021-01-04 This book explores the bioclimatic approach to building design. Constant innovations in the field are evident including the need to face climate changes and increase the local resilience at different scales: regional, urban, architectural. Differently from other contributions, this book provides a definition of the bioclimatic design approach following a technological and performance driven vision. It includes one of the largest collection of research voices on the topic becoming also a critical reference work for bioclimatic theory. It is intended for architects, engineers, researchers and technicians who have professional and research interests in bioclimatic and in sustainable and technological design issues.

Innovation in Power, Control, and Optimization: Emerging Energy Technologies Vasant, Pandian, Barsoum, Nadar, Webb, Jeffrey, 2011-09-30 Developing a system that can cope with variations of system or control parameters, measurement uncertainty and complex multi objective optimization criteria is a frequent problem in engineering systems design. The need for a priori knowledge and the inability to learn from past experience make the design of robust, adaptive and stable systems a difficult task. Innovation in Power Control and Optimization: Emerging Energy Technologies unites research on the development of techniques and methodologies to improve the performance of power systems, energy planning and environments controllers and robotics operation research and modern artificial computational intelligent techniques. Containing research on power engineering control systems and methods of optimization, this book is written for professionals who want to improve their understanding of strategic developments in the area of power control and optimization.

Heating, Cooling, Lighting Norbert M. Lechner, 2014-09-23 Sustainable environmental control through building design. Heating, Cooling and Lighting is the industry standard text on environmental control systems with the emphasis on sustainable design. By detailing the many factors that contribute to the comfort in a building, this book helps architects minimize mechanical systems and energy usage over the life of the building by siting building design and landscaping to maximize natural heating, cooling and lighting. This new fourth edition includes new information on integrated design strategies and designing for the Tropics. Resources include helpful case studies, checklists, diagrams and a companion website featuring additional cases, an image bank and instructor materials. Designing buildings that require less energy to heat, cool and light means allowing the natural energy of the sun and wind to reduce the burden on the mechanical and electrical systems. Basic design decisions regarding size, orientation and form have a great impact on the sustainability, cost and comfort of a building. Heating, Cooling and Lighting provides detailed guidance for each phase of a design project. Readers will understand the concept of sustainability as applied to energy sources. Review the basic principles of thermal comfort and the critical role of climate. Learn the fundamentals of solar responsive design including active and passive solar systems as well as photovoltaics. Discover how siting architectural design and landscaping can reduce the requirements for mechanical and electrical systems In sustainable design mechanical and electrical systems should be used to only accomplish what the architect could not by the design of the building itself With this in mind designers require a comprehensive understanding of both the properties of energy and the human factors involved in thermal comfort Heating Cooling and Lighting is the complete industry leading resource for designers interested in sustainable environmental control
