Critiquing Generative AI in Africa's Media Ecosystems Lungile A. Tshuma, Trust Matsilele, 2025-11-17 This book takes a critical approach to the rise of Artificial Intelligence AI within the media and communication landscape The book argues that as technology is a social construct reflecting existing power dynamics those in the Global South and in Africa in particular are bound to be marginalised and have their knowledge systems overlooked as the Global North dominates technological developments The birth of AI has ignited debates about its benefits to lower income countries with some highlighting its potential to advance businesses and grow economies However this book argues that AI tools have been produced to serve Western needs and that instead there is a need for countries in Africa to have home grown solutions defined by local values Drawing on case studies and analysis from across the continent the book seeks to caution challenge and proffer solutions to the use and understanding of Generative AI for media and communication in non western societies At a time when generative AI is threatening to shape the future of media and communication around the world this book is a vital and timely contribution to debates within critical data studies and African media studies

Respondent Centred Surveys Laura Wilson, Emma Dickinson, 2021-11-03 Achieve your survey goals by empowering your survey respondents Too often surveys are designed for the analyst rather than the respondent This book challenges the status quo by putting respondents needs at the heart of survey development It encourages you to stop listen and then design to improve response rates and collect high quality data Drawing on their experience at the UK Office for National Statistics the authors Show you how to design better surveys by combining social research and user experience best practice Equip you with the tools to design inclusive and accessible surveys Enable you to overcome practical research problems including managing participant recruitment and working to any budget Provide links to helpful web material and further reading as part of the book s online resources Promoting a new way to conceptualise and conduct survey design this book expands your theoretical thinking and shows you step by step how to put it into practice
