Why GMO Foods Are Deadly To Eat, The Ramifications Of Consuming GMO Foods, How To Avoid Consuming Genetically Modified Foods, Deadly Disease Causing Foods That You Should Always Shun Consuming, And How To Mitigate Risks For Succumbing To Chronic Diseases Dr Harrison

Sachs,2020-02-08 This essay sheds light on why GMO foods are deadly to eat delineates the ramifications of consuming GMO foods and elucidates how to avoid consuming genetically modified foods Furthermore deadly disease causing foods that you should always shun consuming are demystified in this essay Moreover how to substantially mitigate risks for succumbing to deadly chronic diseases by embracing a heart healthy brain healthy kidney healthy anticancer antidiabetic nutrient dense alkaline antioxidant rich anti inflammatory raw fruitarian diet is expounded upon in this essay It is no surprise that the consumption of genetically modified foods is unequivocally deadly for humans and should be shunned Much to the chagrin of health conscious customers who are eminently eager to consume nature s healthy fruits and vegetables in their natural forms mankind has bastardized the genomes of crops Despite biotech industry promises there is no evidence that any of the GMOs currently on the market offers increased yield drought tolerance enhanced nutrition or any other consumer benefit Genetically modified organisms GMOs are created by humans and they are living organisms whose genetic material has been artificially manipulated in a laboratory through genetic engineering This creates combinations of plant animal bacteria and virus genes that do not occur in nature or through traditional crossbreeding methods GMO Facts n d Genetically modified foods have been ushered into the global grocery store market in recent decades and are causing a host of calamitous issues to our vessels since we were not designed to consume them Consuming genetically modified foods is of dire consequence to the health of the individual Some of the myriad of genetically modified crops encompass the Maize crop the Soybean crop the Cotton crop the Canola crop the Sugarbeet crop the Alfalfa crop the Papaya crop and the Squash crop Genetically modified crops 2019 The consumption of genetically modified foods can be ineffably deadly for humans Some research studies link genetically modified foods to altered metabolism inflammation kidney and liver malfunction and reduced fertility In one experiment multiple generations of hamsters were fed a diet of genetically modified soy Mount 2012 Much to the dismay of the scientists by the third generation they were losing the ability to produce offspring producing about half as many offspring as the cohort of hamsters that consumed non genetically modified soy Mount 2012 Moreover those who have severe allergies worry that as genes are transferred between plants allergenic proteins from peanuts or wheat will pop up in unexpected places such as soy or sugar Inserting new genes into a seed s delicately constructed genome is always a gamble because scientists can not predict all the consequences There is for example the possibility of creating brand new allergens Mount 2012 The repercussion of eating genetically modified foods can be calamitous especially since they can trigger perilous allergic reactions and the body is not designed to digest genetically modified foods The evidence based findings of research studies preponderantly vindicate that genetically modified foods are deadly for consumption and therefore should never be consumed. The consumption of genetically modified foods adversely impacts multiple facets of the individuals health and research studies done with animals indicate serious health risks linked to GMOs. Genetically modified foods n d These health issues associated with consumption of genetically modified foods encompass infertility immune system problems accelerated aging faulty insulin regulations and changes to major organs and the gastrointestinal system. Another concern is that because these genetically modified foods are engineered to withstand herbicides more of the toxic substances that are sprayed on the plants

Gmo Foods Francis Soza, 2016-08-19 Genetically modified organisms or GMOs as it is called is when they alter the DNA of a fruit or vegetable. These experiments are done to increase yield or to make yield better. But there is no scientific proof that they are better or even safe. Only time will tell at a future date. Gluten is a protein that is found in wheat rye and barley. There are some people who have gluten intolerance. Gluten aggravates and causes inflammation in the small intestines of people suffering from celiac disease. These people need to have a diet that is gluten free. There are many products which are gluten free and finding an alternative should not be a major problem. Many of the vegetables fruits and dairy products are found gluten free. Many people are turning to this new diet. If you plan to start a gluten free diet it is advisable to consult your doctor. Going vegetarian is quite a common thing these days. These vegetarians stick on to only vegetables avoiding meat from their diet. We need to learn more about what is vegan. Vegan is a step ahead of being a vegetarian. They not only avoid eating meat but they also avoid eating or using anything from the animal kingdom. They do not even consume milk eggs or any dairy products. They look into all the details of the ingredients before buying a product. Bread marshmallows chewing gums salad dressing mayonnaise all of which contain some animal products that are not consumed by vegans. They are very strict about their diet. Their doctrine is saying No cruelty to animals. Many of the processed foods sauces ketchup salad dressings cereals and crackers contain artificial sweeteners. These are very similar to our table sugar. But they are quite harmful to the body if taken in excess over a long period of time. Either sugar or any artificial sweetener in excess will cause obesity or even lead to diabetes. Large fructose corn syrup is an artificial sweetener that is applied in most of the prepared foods. As far as possible avoid using it. Try to maintain a healthy diet. If you plan to start a vegan diet or a gluten free diet see that you find suitable alternatives to get the needed minerals and vitamins for your body. There are no individuals more disturbed about the possible dangerous effects of GMO food than the fathers and mothers. In fact that s why a lot of parents want to know what GMO food is capable of doing to the health of their children as well as the rest of their family. Anyway that is why I want you to get a copy of this book GMO Foods The Truth About Genetically Modified Food a Layman s Insight Into What Is GMO and the Genetic Engineering Chaos Today. Yes you will not only be equipped with the needed information to guide your choice of food but will be able to protect your family from any danger inherent in the GMO fads.
