Drawing as a Way of Knowing in Art and Science Gemma Anderson-Tempini, 2017-10-01 In recent history the arts and sciences have often been considered opposing fields of study but a growing trend in drawing research is beginning to bridge this divide Gemma Anderson's Drawing as a Way of Knowing in Art and Science introduces tested ways in which drawing as a research practice can enhance morphological insight specifically within the natural sciences mathematics and art Inspired and informed by collaboration with contemporary scientists and Goethe's studies of morphology as well as the work of artist Paul Klee this book presents drawing as a means of developing and disseminating knowledge and of understanding and engaging with the diversity of natural and theoretical forms such as animal vegetable mineral and four dimensional shapes Anderson shows that drawing can offer a means of scientific discovery and can be integral to the creation of new knowledge in science as well as in the arts

New Images of Thought in the Study of Childhood Drawing Laura Trafi-Prats, Christopher M. Schulte, 2022-10-21 This book provides a revitalised account of the study of children's drawing by outlining a departure from existing approaches privileging developmentalist accounts and presenting drawing as a specialised human endeavour separated from other material entanglements constituting children's everyday experiences The book takes on current developments in the fields of early childhood arts and early childhood literacies to advocate for process oriented new materialist and decolonial approaches that re conceptualise the study of children's drawing It proposes a future oriented approach centred on thinking experimentally with a focus on nonrepresentational elements such as movement sensation intensity rhythm story and place which singularly assemble in drawing events Thus the book discusses drawing as a process of sense making that is not enclosed in the individualised body of the child and that unfolds corporeally in time and space It revises the relation of drawing with symbolisation by suggesting that the use of language and signs in drawing form in entanglement with matter and sensation in processes of creative speculation connected with the movement of thought Presenting a series of contributions by internationally recognised scholars and artists the book aims to create synergies between theory and practice that speak of everyday realities interconnecting children learning and sense making

Activating the Inanimate: Visual Vocabularies of Performance Practice Celia Morgan, Filipa Malva, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2013 The dynamic exchange of perspectives that constituted the 2nd Global Conference of Performance Visual Aspects of Performance Practice demonstrated that the foundational concept of the project is a vibrant platform for sharing and extending ideas within all aspects of scenographic practice in performance This volume is a compilation of papers that formed the basic structure of that conference The first four chapters present a developing schema of visual languages within theatre From Beckett Ibsen Svoboda to Wilson they navigate the symbolic and visual prioritizing of postdramatic scenographic forms Part 2 reconsiders the predetermined divisions that deflate experiential encounters with the inanimate Dance puppetry and slapstick provide examples of interaction between performers and their environment Part 3 addresses various renderings of design processes exploring the role of drawing fabric and body in creating a narrative Part 4 negotiates the sensitive interface between public and performance while looking at the Burning Man Festival flash mobs and opera media casting The final chapters represent a global collective of process strategies that confront the production and methodologies of meaning They engage with cultural presumptions and subjectivities in post Cultural Revolution China Spanish flamenco American Indian post colonial resistances and the traditions of Australian Aboriginal artists

Building Communities of Practice in Higher Education Camila Devis-Rozental, Susanne Rose Clarke, 2024-05-23 Drawing from a diverse range of expert voices within the field this key work explores how communities of practice are an effective tool for supporting successful collaboration whilst also creating the foundations for lasting institutional change By examining communities of practice through a variety of critical lenses this book encourages readers to consider how strategies may be applied within their own institutions to support feelings of belonging encourage teamwork and inspire learning Supported by both practical case studies and current research contributors suggest strategies that readers can use to create their own effective communities of practice Chapters explore topics including Communities as a method of regeneration within universities Cultivation of knowledge through community collaboration Questions of power in transdisciplinary communities Mapping career pathways through communities of practice Bringing together theory and practice this is an essential resource for all involved in strategic planning organisational development and fostering a positive organisational culture within higher education

Sensory Arts and Design Ian Heywood, 2017-01-26 Artists designers and researchers are increasingly seeking new ways to understand and explore the creative and practical significance of the senses This ground breaking book brings art and design into the field of sensory studies providing a clear introduction to the field and outlining important developments and new directions A compelling exploration of both theory and practice Sensory Arts and Design brings together a wide variety of examples from contemporary art and design which share a sensory dimension in their development or user experience Divided into three parts the book examines the design applications of new technology with sensing capacities the role of the senses in creating new imaginative environments and the significance of the senses within different cultural practices The thirteen chapters cover a highly diverse range of issues from the urban environment architecture and soundscapes to gustatory art multisensory perception in painting music and drawing and the relationship between vision and smell Initiated by Insight a research group at Lancaster Institute for the Contemporary Arts widely recognised as a center of research excellence the project brings together a team of experts from Britain Europe and North America This timely book is
