

Activity 2.1.7 #2 Calculating Truss Forces

Solving Statically Determinate Trusses

Use the method below to calculate the forces occurring at each pinned connection.

- Draw a free body diagram of the entire truss. Label applied forces, known dimensions, and replace supports with labeled reaction forces.
- Sum the moments occurring about one or more pinned support(s) to solve for reaction forces at supports. There may be occasions when this will not solve any unknown reaction forces. If that happens, move to the next step.
- Use method of joints to create free body diagrams for each joint to solve for all of the forces acting at that joint. Precision (0.0).

Solve the following 3 trusses. Create the free body diagram and fill in the forces as they are being solved. Be sure the arrows correctly depict the direction of the external forces and the member forces are labeled as tension or compression.
