Innovative Practices in Teaching Information Sciences and Technology John M. Carroll, 2014-01-27 University teaching and learning has never been more innovative than it is now. This has been enabled by a better contemporary understanding of teaching and learning. Instructors now present situated projects and practices to their students not just foundational principles. Lectures and structured practice are now often replaced by engaging and constructivist learning activities that leverage what students know about, think about, and care about. Teaching innovation has also been enabled by online learning in the classroom, beyond the classroom, and beyond the campus. Learning online is perhaps not the panacea sometimes asserted, but it is a disruptively rich and expanding set of tools and techniques that can facilitate engaging and constructivist learning activities. It is becoming the new normal in university teaching and learning. The opportunity and the need for innovation in teaching and learning are together keenest in information technology itself. Computer and Information Science faculty and students are immersed in innovation. The subject matter of these disciplines changes from one year to the next; courses and curricula are in constant flux. And indeed, each wave of disciplinary innovation is assimilated into technology tools and infrastructures for teaching new and emerging concepts and techniques. Innovative Practices in Teaching Information Sciences and Technology: Experience Reports and Reflections describes a set of innovative teaching practices from the faculty of Information Sciences and Technology at Pennsylvania State University. Each chapter is a personal essay describing practices implemented by one or two faculty that challenge assumptions and push beyond standard practice at the individual faculty and classroom level. These are innovations that instructors elsewhere may find directly accessible and adaptable. Taken as a set, this book is a case study of teaching innovation as a part of faculty culture. Innovation is not optional in information technology; it inheres in both the disciplinary subject matter and in teaching. But it is an option for instructors to collectively embrace innovation as a faculty. The chapters in this book taken together embody this option and provide a partial model to faculties for reflecting on and refining their own collective culture of teaching innovation. Passion,

Purpose, Profit Donna Karaba, 2019-10-29 A guide for leaders who want to follow their calling without missing their kids' soccer games. Will inspire you to live an integrated, joy-filled life. Marshall Goldsmith, New York Times bestselling author of What Got You Here Won't Get You There. Leaders can see the knowledge, curiosity, and imagination that goes into successfully coaching executives. They can navigate the executive boardroom and coach with confidence. But how does a leader inspire joy while also being fully present in their children's lives? How does a leader and a mom build confidence in her clients and family? In Passion Purpose Profit, Donna Karaba gives leaders the keys to transforming lives and helping others fulfill their potential by modeling an integrated life. She uses her time-tested business blueprint, The Authentic Leadership Business Model, to teach the principles that allow leaders to grow relationships in the workplace and in the home. Leaders discover how to coach executives to self-actualization, manage client relationships, and create real value among other things. Passion Purpose Profit

Archaeology brings to light new insights connecting mothering in the past and present by exploring all aspects of this important but frequently under valued and thus neglected subject and is underpinned by feminist theorizing of motherhood and mothering Taking a comprehensive approach this book explores the archaeology of mothers in private and public places in the past and present the patriarchal institution of motherhood versus actual mothering practices the burdens and joys of mothering in archaeology and the second shift often pressed upon women With the inclusion of intersectional research on diverse historic ideologies and practices of motherhood and mothering that varied among classes races and ethnic groups the book also spans a wide range of temporal geographic and cultural differences around the world from Ancient Egypt and Iron Age Europe to Aztec Mexico colonial Yucatan colonial and historic Europe America and Australia and modern archaeologists in America and Europe Going beyond historical practices the book also examines how female identifying archaeologists usually perform a disproportionate amount of mothering labor particularly emotional labor both in their careers and in the home Further it also addresses how becoming a mother affects women s archaeological practices and careers and discusses why women are doing most of the deeply engaged community archaeology with all of its additional relationships and social cowboy than in Tom Menzer At nineteen he had made a good start to do that but Pontchartrain Louisiana did not seem to be the right place so he turned his horse west and headed for Texas where the real cowboys came from The life he lived is nothing more than a harrowing experience If he made friends with the native Indians then the white man would hate him would call him a squaw man and would tell him that his life was worth nothing more than the average Indian If he took the side of the white man then the Indians would look to lift his scalp Tom was not a killer and he hated killing But he found himself wearing a necktie that was just seconds away from taking his life by some soldiers that were paid by a very rich rancher to dispose of him It was after that he vowed never to be caught by the law He traveled north to Oklahoma where he made friends with a village of natives There he hunted and contributed his share of food for the village The chief rewarded him with his daughter When she was a little baby still on her mother s breast her family was massacred by the natives She was found crying under some small bushes and a warrior took her and gave her to the chief whose wife was nursing a young son and nursed her to become a very lovely maiden The chief later told Tom that his wife was not native and he had waited a long time to find the right man for his daughter When the horse thieves tried to kill him and harm his wife and family it was only then that he used his gun to kill the thieves Suffering from the buckshot in his back he had a man at a fort near Calgary dig the pellets out with his hunting knife You can read on and find out how Tom and Raven Feather learned to love each other in a deep and enduring way Union Agriculturist and Western Prairie Farmer ,2005 Frontiers of Asian American Studies Gail M.
