Measuring and Accounting for Innovation in the Twenty-First Century Carol Corrado, Jonathan Haskel, Javier Miranda, Daniel Sichel, 2021-05-18 Measuring innovation is a challenging task both for researchers and for national statisticians and it is increasingly important in light of the ongoing digital revolution National accounts and many other economic statistics were designed before the emergence of the digital economy and the growth in importance of intangible capital They do not yet fully capture the wide range of innovative activity that is observed in modern economies This volume examines how to measure innovation track its effects on economic activity and on prices and understand how it has changed the structure of production processes labor markets and organizational form and operation in business The contributors explore new approaches to and data sources for measurement such as collecting data for a particular innovation as opposed to a firm and using trademarks for tracking innovation They also consider the connections between university based R D and business start ups and the potential impacts of innovation on income distribution The research suggests strategies for expanding current measurement frameworks to better capture innovative activity including developing more detailed tracking of global value chains to identify innovation across time and space and expanding the measurement of innovation s impacts on GDP in fields such as consumer content delivery and cloud computing Power in Ideas Kirsten Adams, Daniel Kreiss, 2021-05-13 This Element develops an analytical framework for understanding the role of ideas in political life and communication Power in Ideas argues that the empirical study of ideas should combine interpretive approaches to derive meaning and understand influence with quantitative analysis to help determine the reach spread and impact of ideas This Element illustrates this approach through three case studies the idea of reparations in Ta Nehisi Coates s The Case for Reparations the idea of free expression in Mark Zuckerberg s Facebook policy speech at Georgetown University and the idea of universal basic income in Andrew Yang s Freedom Dividend Power in Ideas traces the landscapes and spheres within which these ideas emerged and were articulated the ways they were encoded in discourse the fields they traveled across and how they became powerful
