scientist in the financial services industry and an open source developer Podcasting Jeremy Wade Morris,2024-05-31 Podcasting burst onto the media landscape in the early 2000s At the time there were hopes it might usher in a new wave of amateur and professional cultural production and represent an alternate model for how to produce share circulate and experience new voices and perspectives Twenty years later podcasting is at a critical juncture in its relatively young history a moment where the early ideals of open standards and platform neutral distribution are giving way to services that prioritize lean back listening and monetizable media experiences This book provides an accessible and comprehensive account of one of digital media s most vibrant formats Focusing on the historical changes shaping podcasts as a media format the book explores the industrial technological and cultural components of podcasting alongside case studies of various podcasts industry publications and streaming audio platforms e g Spotify Google and Apple Podcasts Jeremy Wade Morris argues that as streaming platforms push to make podcasting more industrialized accessible user friendly and similar to other audio media like music or audiobooks they threaten podcasting s early though always unrealized promises This is the go to introduction for students and researchers of media communication and cultural studies as well as readers who enjoy making and listening to podcasts Religion and Artificial Intelligence Beth Singler,2024-10-31 Artificial intelligence AI is rarely out of the news or the public imagination Images of red eyed Terminators illustrate press accounts of incremental advances in medical diagnosis facial recognition natural language processing and robotics Such advances are transforming society through measurable impacts on people s decisions and opportunities Religion and Artificial Intelligence An Introduction explores an emerging field with a religious studies approach drawing on cultural and digital anthropological methods to demonstrate the entanglements of religion and AI our imaginaries of these objects and our ideas about their utopian or dystopian futures It addresses key topics including the following What AI is and is not How religions are reacting to AI with examples of rejection adoption and adaptation How established religions understand creation and place human like AI within that How overtly secular and even new atheist groups understand AI as a tool for liberation from human evolution and religion Religious visions of superintelligent AI This engaging book is essential for anyone considering the relationship between religion science and technology and interested in the questions raised by transhumanism posthumanism and new religious movements The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under A creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Driving Intelligence: The Green Book J. Mark Bishop,Gabriel Seiberth,2025-12-24 Driving Intelligence takes a critical and captivating tour of autonomous driving a phenomenon at the intersection of data driven platforms artificial general intelligence and the mind The journey extends from Europe to key areas such as Japan China and the US recognizing the global impact of AI autonomous driving on high tech and automotive sectors The significance of Driving Intelligence resonates beyond specialized circles encompassing a spectrum of perspectives historical economic scientific and philosophical The book addresses the pressing question of success probabilities and socioeconomic impacts not just for specialists but for a wider audience keen on understanding the evolution of AI and mobility in the 21st century Avoiding partial insights into this domain the book provides a comprehensive and multifaceted overview which will appeal to a diverse audience including business leaders and policymakers in the mobility and tech industries governmental bodies and the general public globally

Connected Histories Eva Pfanzelter,Dirk Rupnow,Éva Kovács,Marianne Windsperger,2024-09-23 The World Wide Web WWW and digitisation have become important sites and tools for the history of the Holocaust and its commemoration Today some memory institutions use the Internet at a high professional level as a venue for self presentation and as a forum for the discussion of Holocaust related topics for potentially international transcultural and interdisciplinary user groups At the same time it is not always the established institutions that utilise the technical possibilities and potential of the Internet to the maximum Creative and sometimes controversial new forms of storytelling of the Holocaust or more traditional ways of remembering the genocide presented in a new way with digital media often come from people or groups who are not in the realm of influence of the large memorial sites museums and archives Such private stagings have experienced a particular upswing since the boom of social media This democratisation of Holocaust memory and history is crucial though it is as yet undecided how much it will ultimately reinforce old structures and cultural regional or other inequalities or reinvent them The Digital space as an arbitrary and limitless archive for the mediation of the Holocaust spanning from Russia to Brazil is at the centre of the essays collected in this volume This space is also considered as a forum for negotiation a meeting place and a battleground for generations and stories and as such offers the opportunity to reconsider the transgenerational transmission of trauma family histories and communication Here it becomes evident there are new societal intentions and decision making structures that exceed the capabilities of traditional mass media and thrive on the participation of a broad public
