Halliday Language Context And Text:

Language, Context, and Text Michael Alexander Kirkwood Halliday, Ruqaiya Hasan, 1985 Language, Context, and Text Michael Alexander Kirkwood Halliday, Ruqaiya Hasan, 1991 This study deals with the linguistic study of texts as a way of understanding how language functions in its immensely varied range of social contexts The authors adopt a functional approach to language in which the different registers or functional varieties of a language are explained by reference to the different contexts in which they occur Their analysis reveals how on the one hand each text is unique while on the other the way a text is organized and the kinds of coherence it displays are closely related to the place and the value that it has in its social and cultural environment Language, Context, and Text Michael Alexander Kirkwood Halliday, Ruqaiya Hasan, 1985 International Handbook of English Language Teaching Jim Cummins, Chris Davison, 2007-12-31 This two volume handbook provides a comprehensive examination of policy practice research and theory related to English language teaching ELT in international contexts Nearly 70 chapters highlight the research foundation for the best practices frameworks for policy decisions and areas of consensus and controversy in the teaching and development of English as a second and or additional language for kindergarten through to adult speakers of languages other than English In doing so it problematizes traditional dichotomies and challenges the very terms that provide the traditional foundations of the field A wide range of terms has been used to refer to the key players involved in the teaching and learning of the English language and to the enterprise of English language teaching as a whole At various times and in different contexts the following labels have been used in countries where English is the dominant language to describe programs learners or teachers of English English as a second language ESL English as an additional language EAL limited English proficient LEP and English language learners ELL In contexts where English is not the dominant language the following terms have been used English as a foreign language EFL English as an international language EIL and English as a lingua franca ELF Discourse Analysis and the Greek New Testament Stanley E. Porter, Matthew Brook O'Donnell, 2023-12-28 This volume examines and outlines a Systemic Functional Linguistic SFL model of discourse analysis and its relationship to New Testament Greek The book reflects upon how SFL has grown as a field since it was first introduced to New Testament Greek studies by Stanley E Porter in the 1980s Porter and Matthew Brook O'Donnell first introduce basic concepts regarding discourse analysis and the major approaches towards it within New Testament studies They then provide a detailed exploration of discourse analysis in terms of the textual metafunction beginning with an introduction to the architecture of language within SFL before exploring several individual elements within it By focusing upon these individual components in particular theme and information structure markedness and prominence and coherence and cohesive harmony Porter and O'Donnell introduce and exemplify the major resources of the textual metafunction Register Variation in the New Testament Petrine Texts Chien Liu, 2022-02-07 This book examines the nature of the early church from a Petrine perspective employing an analysis of register to implement a more synthetic study of relevant texts in the New Testament Liu utilises a type of discourse analysis that provides a framework for classifying grammatical and lexical information so that the reader can better understand the social function of not only Peter's speeches in Acts but also the two epistles attributed to him Liu's original and detailed study looks at the content and structure of the texts to enhance our understanding of the early church with particular attention paid to the dichotomy between Petrine and Pauline Christianity and their competing pictures of Christian origins This book will interest all scholars and students who wish to extend their understanding of both the historical and literary Peter

The Epistle of James James D. Dvorak, Zachary K. Dawson, 2019-07-25 The Epistle of James is a collection of essays that applies to the book of James linguistic methods of analysis that are based on the same theoretical framework namely Systemic Functional Linguistics This volume is unique in that it provides a theoretically consistent and unified approach to a single New Testament book which makes the whole volume useful for researchers and students of James Each essay makes its own creative use of this linguistic perspective to engage important critical questions and to pave new ground for Jacobean scholarship based on linguistic analysis Various topics in this volume include the textual structure and cohesion of the letter intertextuality rhetorical strategies ideological struggle interpersonal relations and other topics related to the letter's social context and language use

Analyzing English in a Global Context Anne Burns, Caroline Coffin, 2013-10-18 Devised in collaboration with the Open University and Macquarie University Australia Analysing English in a Global Context is specifically designed for the postgraduate student market as well as for teachers of English as a second or foreign language throughout the world This is a groundbreaking Reader which includes specially commissioned pieces as well as classic texts and provides a global perspective on the changing uses and forms of English and its impact on language teaching contexts Students skills in analysing these forms will be developed through an examination of the major functional models and their strengths and weaknesses

Linguistic Studies of Text and Discourse M.A.K. Halliday, 2006-01-24 The papers in this volume focus on the application of systemic functional grammar to the analysis of texts both highly valued and everyday both written and spoken The texts are studied in terms of the linguistic resources that contribute to the realization of its meaning potential

Text and Context in Functional Linguistics Mohsen Ghadessy, 1999 This text aims to examine the nature of text and context using theoretical models based in the framework of Systemic Functional Linguistics SFL

Diverse Narratives and Shared Beliefs Soumya Awasthi, 2025-06-27 This book delves into the intricate tapestry of Deoband Islam in India Pakistan and Afghanistan Challenging simplistic narratives it unveils the nuanced reality of Deoband Islam revealing a diverse range of perspectives within the movement It illuminates the movement's historical social and philosophical dimensions It explores the movement's relationship with societal transformation and communal identity and its impact on the geopolitical dynamics of South Asia The book offers a distinctive perspective on the Deoband school of thought in Islam by systematically categorising it into three distinct regional variants each reflecting the unique socio political context of its environment The focus is on the Deoband school of thought a strand within Sunni Islam that adheres to the philosophical framework of Ashari Maturidi Critically examining its teachings uncovers the complexities and contradictions that shape Deobandi s thought challenging popular assumptions and providing a fresh understanding It also highlights the voices of Deobandi scholars and organisations who unequivocally denounce terrorism and actively work to counter radicalisation Acknowledging their efforts the book underscores the potential for dialogue and cooperation in promoting peace and understanding With its comprehensive approach and thought provoking analysis this book is essential for scholars policymakers political science departments theology sociology international relations security studies and South Asian studies

Nepos' Biographies as Encomia Ira Mark Milne,1994 Language as Ideology Robert Hodge,Gunther Kress,2025-12-08 Critical Linguistics inaugurated in 1979 with the publication of Language as Ideology has been widely influential and successful in documenting the connection of linguistic and social practices Published as a second edition in 1993 the reissue of this classic text still provides a most detailed theoretical account of the operation of power and ideology in all aspects of text The book presents the advances made in the field of critical language study The authors views on the necessary directions for the field are advanced through a detailed analysis and theoretical discussion of a related set of texts The book will be of interest to students and teachers of a wide range of disciplines including English language and linguistics media cultural and communication studies and education

The Encyclopedia of Language and Linguistics R. E. Asher,J. M. Y. Simpson,1994 Talking and Thinking David Butt,1989 This book written in the form of a conversation between a student of educational theory and a student of linguistics brings out the relationship between talking and thinking Their discussion can be divided into three parts the Saussurean theory of signs seen within different approaches to meaning the implications of sign theory in accordance with what thinking implies in specific communities and the way in which point of view can alter meaning within a particular community

Discourse Studies in Composition Ellen L. Barton,Gail Stygall,2002 This volume aims to synthesize and situate the systematic study of discourse explicitly in the field of composition Each chapter follows a common tri partite structure a description of an approach to discourse analysis a case study using that approach and a discussion of its value

Australian Journal of Reading ,1991 The Western Classical Tradition in Linguistics Keith Allan,2007 The Western Classical Tradition in Linguistics examines ancient medieval post renaissance and modern conceptions of linguistics i e the study of language and languages It identifies a classical tradition to which modern linguistics owes a very clear debt For example Aristotle takes language to be A a symbolic system that represents B the world of our experience as it is contained within the mind He believed C the world is external to human beings who are all capable of D perceiving the same things within it Finally E Aristotle was only interested in form as a corollary of function A E have given rise to different developments in linguistics A is a premise for all linguists but has been developed perhaps to its limits in post Fregean semantics From the last quarter of the 20th century B has been pursued by cognitive linguistics C was taken up by the speculative grammarians of the late middle ages who looked to the structure of God's world as informing the structure of universal grammar The rationalists of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries took up D revising the interpretation of their speculative precursors to seek universal grammar in the God-given rational minds of the human beings perceiving the world around them Chomsky reinterprets the rationalist doctrine to seek universal grammar in the human mind while eschewing the relevance of human perception of anything other than linguistic input Functional linguistics has picked up on E So today's formal linguists, cognitivists, functionalists and Chomskyites may often be at odds with each other but all tread in Aristotle's footprints within the western classical tradition There have been times when linguists stepped outside of the tradition but they nearly always borrowed from Academic Discourse in Europe Paola Evangelisti Allori, 1998 Discourse in Late Modernity Lilie Chouliaraki, Norman Fairclough, 1999 Discourse in Late Modernity sets out to show that critical discourse analysis is strongly positioned to address empirical research and theory building across the social sciences particularly research and theory on the semiotic linguistic aspects of the social world It situates critical discourse analysis as a form of critical social research in relation to diverse theories from the philosophy of science to social theory and from political science to sociology and linguistics First the authors clarify the ontological and epistemological assumptions of critical discourse analysis its view of what the social world consists of and how to study it and in so doing point to the connections between critical discourse analysis and critical social scientific research more generally Secondly they relate critical discourse analysis to social theory by creating a research agenda in contemporary social life on the basis of narratives of late modernity particularly those of Giddens Habermas and Harvey as well as feminist and postmodernist approaches Thirdly they show the relevance of sociological work in the analysis of discursive aspects of social life drawing on the work of Bourdieu and Bernstein to theorise the dialectic of social reproduction and change and on post-structuralist post-colonial and feminist work to theorise the dialectic of complexity and homogenisation in contemporary societies Finally they discuss the relationship between systemic functional linguistics and critical discourse analysis showing how the analytical strength of each can benefit from the other Sets out a new and distinctive theoretical grounding and research agenda for critical discourse analysis Interdisciplinary in scope Draws on a broad range of theories and approaches
