Computers in Education, 1990

Computers in Education Anne McDougall, Carolyn Dowling, IFIP Technical Committee 3, Education, 1990. This book is the result of the 1990 World Conference on Computers in Education. These conferences, held only once every five years, bring together computer educators from around the world to share their ideas, experiences, achievements, and frustrations in this rapidly developing field. The papers are grouped into streams and mini-conferences reflecting the logical organization of the conference. The streams include elementary, secondary, university, vocational, education, and training; research and rainbow for papers that cut across the streams. The mini-conference sections address the use of computer-based training in industry, new tools in the classroom, and computing in distance education.

A Writer's Reference with Writing about Literature Diana Hacker, Nancy Sommers, 2024-10-01. Your college writing will be one way you put your ideas and yourself out into the world. A Writer's Reference helps you strengthen your skills for that important work. It helps you develop a range of literacies: writing, reading, thinking, collaborating, using information, and working responsibly with AI. Acknowledging that generative AI tools are part of many writers' processes, A Writer's Reference teaches concrete, flexible strategies for applying your human intelligence to artificial intelligence (see C1a and the AI tips throughout). It helps writers to see AI not as a substitute but as a starting point because, if you've heard the expression, you do know that AI simply can't do you. Not authentically. It seems magical, but in fact, it understands nothing, can't think, and won't ever replace the human voice your readers will want to hear.
