in countries with vastly different welfare regimes that bring into view not only considerable limitations but also a breadth of possibilities for emancipatory social work. It will be of interest to all scholars, students and professionals working in social work and social community services.

Social Technologies for Inclusive Development: Multilevel Policy and Practices
Kleinsy Bonilla, Susana Arrechea, Luis Guillermo Velásquez Pérez, Efraín Bámaca-López, 2025-05-15

Social technologies fostering inclusion represent a contemporary research paradigm that has resurfaced. Broader discussions aim to expand the scope of science, technology and innovation beyond purely economic considerations into the social domain. Hernán Thomas suggests that innovative solutions encompass a broad spectrum of approaches for conceiving, constructing, implementing and overseeing technological interventions tailored to address pressing social and environmental challenges. These solutions strive to stimulate the emergence of socially inclusive and sustainable economic dynamics in various areas including nutrition, housing, energy, clean water access, transportation and communication. This multifaceted approach reflects a commitment to harnessing technology's potential for the betterment of society at large. This Research Topic focuses on showcasing experiences, strategies and policies in science, technology and innovation primarily in the context of Latin America. Such experiences, strategies and policies aim to reduce social disparities and stimulate development. This article collection welcomes multifaceted approaches including comparative analysis, policy evaluations, community case studies and more. Additionally, it engages with theoretical discussions on the influence of scientific and technological paradigms on public management, examining how these paradigms shape policy design, implementation and technology integration. Furthermore, this Research Topic aims to explore recent technological advancements particularly in the realms of digital transformation and data-driven decision making as tools to forge new avenues for social inclusivity. By delving into these innovations, the collection aims to facilitate knowledge on innovative solutions, improve governance practices and foster greater citizen involvement. Overall, this research initiative aims to contribute to the burgeoning literature on social technologies for social inclusion. It will critically assess the strengths and limitations of multilevel interventions, offering paradigmatic case studies and pinpointing unexplored opportunities within this field, thereby advancing our understanding and enhancing discourse in this critical area of study. The scope of this Research Topic revolves around the burgeoning field of social technologies and their nascent integration with public management and community engagement, specifically focusing on Latin America. We welcome a diverse range of manuscript types including original research articles, reviews, case studies, policy analyses and theoretical perspectives. We aim to assemble a comprehensive collection of insights and experiences that shed light on the evolving landscape of social technology in Latin America and its implications for addressing contemporary global challenges. We invite contributions that delve into this dynamic intersection: social technologies and public management in Latin America, exploring themes such as innovative approaches to social technology adoption, the impact of digital transformation on local communities, practical strategies for fostering inclusive development and the role of scientific diasporas in advancing these initiatives Subtopics include but are not limited to the following community developed technologies data production and data access social technologies and health solutions digital transformations social technologies and inclusive development the use of research metrics or analytics to understand social trends and networks in research social technologies and climate change nutrition and food security gender perspectives in social technologies Indigenous knowledge and social technologies for cultural survival crisis management COVID 19 community resilience science communication education and digital inclusion youth engagement and empowerment urbanization and smart cities human mobility and social mobility including the use of metrics indicators to look at researcher and scholarly mobility social entrepreneurship governance and policy implementation using actionable research metrics and analytics in policy creation and decision making collapse The Summary ,1903
