2. The Core Concept of Kodaly Music Teaching Method

Kodaly music teaching is to explore the law of music teaching, which is formed by exploring students' psychological characteristics and physiological characteristics. It can be seen that Kodaly music teaching is a teaching method to explore the law of music teaching based on the psychological and physiological characteristics of students. Music refers to the creator in condensed in the life, and elaborates the use of language, it is also the creator describes a symbol, and express feelings and ideas to the viewer can from the form of music and movement, through the imagination to feel actions, emotions, and appreciate others of emotion and artistic conception, so as to realize resonate with lenovo. Music has lyricism, intuitiveness and action, which enables music appreciation to start from music and appreciate the characteristics of meaning in works. Music runs through the art of singing rhythm. The ups and downs of the singer's movements and the change of speed make the music convey the singer's rich inner world, thus presenting different situations and contradictions in life[1]. Music has rhythm, which enables the audience to learn the connotation changes of the work in the change of rhythm and movement. Vocal music is to carry on the scientific sound, systematic singing, using this way to create a vivid artistic image, let the thoughts and feelings more rich and delicate. Singers in the process of learning vocal music, to ensure that the song elaborated by the artistic conception, but also to combine artistic processing and the occurrence of skills for expression. Vocal music in the resonance and pronunciation has contradictions, if you want to be able to make the singing voice more beautiful, you need to be able to make the singing understand the contradiction. Kodaly's teaching concept points out that human voice is the best teaching tool for teachers[2]. Good singing has a direct connection with the psychological state of the learners, so use the most ideal way to sing in school. For students, it is enjoyment. Students are eager to get better music and inject it into their hearts. This kind of love will continue students' life in the future. Harmonious psychological state and technical ability have a direct correlation, if there is a powerless situation, or poor singing skills, it proves that the psychological state is not harmonious, so in vocal music practice to ensure that can step by step, seek truth from facts, will appear in singing loose style and lazy style to overcome. In singing, for example, you may sing very well, with poor integrity, with no connection between words. Music lacks coherence and cannot control singing in a harmonious state. If you want to achieve good singing, you must ensure the balanced development of logical thinking and image thinking. In the process of social development, people's growth process, perception ability and imagination ability all play an important role. When using Kodaly teaching method to teach students to learn, teachers should adopt a step-by-step approach, interpret art in singing, formulate teaching plans according to the development of students, and make singing learning the carrier of students' thinking development [3].
