

Application for an environmental permit

Part B3.5 – Rearing of pigs or poultry intensively in an installation with more than 40,000 places for poultry or 2,000 places for production pigs (over 30 kg) or 750 places for sows

Environment
Agency

Please read through this form and the guidance notes that came with it.

You should only use this form if your intended activity is limited to rearing of pigs or poultry intensively in an installation with more than 40,000 places for poultry or 2,000 places for production pigs (over 30 kg) or 750 places for sows (as defined under <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/uksl/2010/675/contents/made>).

If you want to carry out any other activities that would require a permit (such as an anaerobic digester) you will need to fill in the appropriate parts of the Environmental Permitting Regulations (EPR) application form.

The form can be:

- 1) saved onto a computer and then filled in. Please note that the form follows a logic that means questions will open or stay closed depending on a previous answer. So you may not be able to enter text in some boxes.
- 2) printed off and filled in by hand. Please write clearly in the answer spaces.

Note: If you believe including information on a public register would not be in the interests of national security you must tick the box in section 5 of F1 or F3 and enclose a letter telling us that you have told the Secretary of State. We will not include the information in the public register unless directed otherwise.

Where you see the term 'document reference' on the form, give the document references and send the documents with the application form when you have completed it.

It will take less than three hours to fill in this part of the application form.

Department of Environmental Protection,1994 Asper review of international business and trade law ,2003 Environmental Manager ,1995 Environmental Permits Donna Rona,2012-12-06 Environmental permits enable regulatory agencies to control the disturbance and degradation of the environment caused by man s activities Created by governments through legislation the permit processes are administered by elected officials Environmental legislation is relatively new as an independent field of the law the laws themselves are primarily a conglomeration of older legal doctrines from other fields of law modified and adapted for particular situations Landau and Rheingold 1971 Like other laws environmental laws are meant to serve and protect the rights and well being of the public However like other laws they have created confusion a proliferation of costly paperwork and some inequities Numerous statutes dealing with most aspects of pollution exist at every level of government so many in fact that they frequently conflict and overlap These statutes establish a public policy toward polluters They also empower the regulatory bodies that issue permits It would be impossible to compile a list of requirements for each type of permit Therefore this book will acquaint the reader with the common aspects of environmental permits their terminology components and application processes This book covers the permit process from initial agencies applicant contacts through application parts and procedures to application approval Special emphasis has been placed on bringing together copies of laws and lists of agencies as appendices The appendices give the reader easy access to materials that will help clarify the permit process The Parliamentary Debates (Hansard).
