How Do You Ai Blog Writer In The United States:

Judges, Technology and Artificial Intelligence Tania Sourdin, 2021-05-28 New and emerging technologies are reshaping justice systems and transforming the role of judges The impacts vary according to how structural reforms take place and how courts adapt case management processes online dispute resolution systems and justice apps Significant shifts are also occurring with the development of more sophisticated forms of Artificial Intelligence that can support judicial work or even replace judges These developments together with shifts towards online court processes are explored in Judges Technology and Artificial Intelligence The Radical Case for Teaching Skim Reading in First-Year Writing Ellen C. Carillo, 2025-10-15

The Radical Case for Teaching Skim Reading in First Year Writing encourages faculty particularly in writing studies to check internal biases toward deep reading and teach skim reading in first year writing courses Written by Ellen C Carillo who has previously published on the importance of teaching deep reading this small book is a controversial prompt for further discussion and exploration Data from studies of the lived experiences of undergraduates indicate that students do not need deep reading practices in the majority of their classes across the disciplines and moreover that students succeed in their classes by skim reading Rather than imagining an idealized set of circumstances that allow for sustained deep reading as does a great deal of the scholarship on reading in writing studies The Radical Case for Teaching Skim Reading in First Year Writing argues for teaching students reading practices that will support their success in their college writing assignments rather than those strategies the field believes should support their success In our information landscape and our fragile democracy encouraging skimming as opposed to deep reading may seem like a gamble this very tendency toward the quick rather than the critical has undoubtedly contributed to the current crisis of mass misinformation However teaching students to use skim reading as a strategic tool for purposeful engagement and efficient yet thoughtful information filtering better equips them to navigate the rapidly changing information landscape and manage the fast paced flow of content from diverse media sources

African Artificial Intelligence Mark Nasila, 2024-05-27 Artificial intelligence AI is upending life work and play as we know it and it s only just getting started The rise of AI is a milestone on par with the discovery of fire the invention of the wheel and the creation of the internet In short AI is going to change everything For some that s an exciting prospect For others it s terrifying However you feel about AI there s no escaping it whether you re in a global metropolis or a farmer in rural KwaZulu Natal Dr Mark Nasila has been watching AI s ascent for over a decade studying its effects on everything from agriculture and aviation to healthcare education entertainment crime prevention energy management policy creation finance and anything in between and applying them to his role at one of South Africa s most successful financial institutions First National Bank a division of FirstRand Group African Artificial Intelligence is a comprehensive and fascinating journey tracing the rise of AI and its evolution into the emerging technology underpinning all others from connected devices and smart chatbots to the metaverse Mark combines unexpected use cases and tales of cutting edge innovation with a unique and potent argument harnessing AI to solve Africa's problems requires embracing it from an African perspective. African nations can't afford to simply import AI solutions from afar. Instead, Mark contends they need to rework, remix, and refine AI so it's able to meet uniquely African challenges in uniquely African ways and to take advantage of the once-in-a-generation opportunity AI represents for every industry sector and person everywhere. Dynamics of Media Writing

The American Produce Review, 1910 Theorising Future Conflict Mark Lacy, 2023-12-15 This book explores the changing tactics, technologies, and terrains of twenty-first century war. It argues that the world in 2049 is unlikely to look like the climate change artificial intelligence (AI) dystopia depicted in Blade Runner 2049, but nor will it be a world where conflict and war has been transformed by a civilising process that eradicates violence and conflict from the human condition. 2049 is also the year that the US Department of Defense has suggested China will become a world-shaping military power. All states will be engaged in arms races across a variety of new tools and technologies from drones, robotics, AI, and quantum computing that will transform politics, economy, society, and war. Drawing on thinkers such as Zygmunt Bauman and Paul Virilio, the book suggests that future war will be shaped by three broad tendencies that include a broad range of tactics, technologies, and trends: the impure, the granular, and the machinic. Through discussions of cybersecurity, urban war, robotics, AI, climate change, science fiction, and new strategic concepts, it examines how these tendencies might evolve in the different geopolitical futures and types of war ahead of us. The book provides a thought-provoking and distinctive framework through which to think about the changing character of war. It concludes that for all the novel and dangerous challenges ahead, the futuristic possibilities of warfare will likely continue to be shaped by problems familiar to students of international relations and the history of war, albeit problems that will play out in geopolitical and technological contexts that we have never encountered before. This book will be of much interest to students of critical war studies, security studies, science and technology studies, and International Relations in general. Mass Communication Ralph E.
