Why You Should Try Ai Automation Tools For Teachers:

Teaching Activities for Social Work Jill M. Chonody, 2025-11-08 This textbook is a teaching and learning guide for social work education. Increasingly, instructors want to implement active learning strategies. With changes in our students from the wired Gen Z to nontraditional students, instructors are hungry for ways to engage students in the content and the classroom. Furthermore, as new educational standards from our discipline's governing body are being implemented across social work programs, faculty may be seeking additional content or be looking to make changes to how they teach their courses. This textbook addresses this need. Many PhD programs in social work do not include specific methods in their coursework; however, most graduates will go on to teach throughout their careers. New instructors as well as those who have been teaching for a while can use this book to help implement new activities and approaches that make learning fun and engaging. The contents of this text comprise detailed descriptions of different creative teaching and learning activities. Both in-class activities and assignments are provided. The book's 100 chapters are organized under 20 themed sections: I Photography, II Art and Music, III Mindfulness and Self Care, IV Reflective Reading and Writing, V Podcasts, VI Artificial Intelligence, VII Fun and Games, VIII Professional Development, IX Anti-Racist Teaching and Design Justice, X Addressing Stereotyping and Bias, XI Human Behavior and the Social Environment, XII Theory, XIII Engagement Assessment and Clinical Practice, XIV Mezzo and Macro Practice, XV Research Methods, XVI LGBTQ Affirmative Practice, XVII Reproductive Justice and Sexual Health, XVIII Environmental Justice, XIX International Connections and Cultural Awareness, and XX Evaluating Teaching and Learning. Teaching Activities for Social Work: Creative Pedagogies to Engage Students can be used as a guidebook for current teachers and/or doctoral students. This text is intended to engage a diverse audience, including those who teach as an adjunct, doctoral students in social work, or those who hold a PhD and want to make shifts in their teaching methods, or who teach courses on pedagogy. Teaching Literature with Artificial Intelligence Eric D. Abrams, 2025-09-15 Teaching Literature with Artificial Intelligence explores the use of chatbots as participants in the teaching and learning of literature in high school and college classrooms while highlighting potentially outmoded norms and expectations of ELA instruction. Artificial intelligence programs have profoundly altered the daily realities of teachers and students, inspiring concern and opportunity alike. Thought-provoking, theoretically grounded, and full of replicable autoethnographic experiments, this book offers real-world examples of generative chatbot technologies in ELA classrooms, positioning their accessibility and ubiquity as an incentive for critiquing and enriching traditional teaching and learning approaches. Graduate students, teaching faculty, and scholars of teacher education, English and literature education, digital literacies, and learning design will come away with a sharp critique of the purported affordances of chatbots as well as an incisive demonstration of AI as a classroom tool that supports rather than diminishes the meaningful learning, critical thinking, and agentive development of young people today. Applying Automation in Work: Carroll B. Surveillance Education Nolan Higdon, Allison Butler, 2024-08-02 Surveillance Education explores the pervasive use of digital surveillance technologies in schools and assesses its pernicious effects on students Recognizing that the use of digital technologies will persist the authors instead offer practical ways to ameliorate their impact In our era of surveillance capitalism digital media technologies are ever more intertwined into the educational process Schools are presented with digital technologies as tools of convenience for gathering and grading student work as tools of support to foster a more equitable learning environment and as tools of safety for predicting or preventing violence or monitoring mental emotional and physical health Despite a dearth of evidence to confirm their effectiveness digital data collection and tracking is often presented as a way to improve educational outcomes and safety This book challenges these fallacious assumptions and argues that the use of digital media technologies has caused great harm to students by subjecting them to oppressive levels of surveillance impinging upon their right to privacy and harvesting their personal data on behalf of Big Tech In doing so the authors draw upon interviews from K 12 and higher education students teachers and staff civil rights and technology lawyers and educational technological programmers The authors also provide practical guidance for teachers administrators students and their families seeking to identify and combat surveillance in education This urgent eye opening book will be of interest to students and educators with interests in critical media literacy and pedagogy and the sociology of technology and education
