

Common Social Media Scams

Scam Type	Scam Description	How to Prevent
Account Takeover Fraud	Scammers take over your social media accounts. They can pretend they're you to defraud others.	Keep your passwords private and don't click links from people you don't recognize.
Account Authentication Scams	Scammers send a message that your password is compromised and ask for you to authenticate it. They are using this information to get into your account.	Never change your password if prompted from outside the social media site.
Fake Online Stores and Products	Scammers create fake web stores or products.	Use credit cards with buyer protections for online purchases and read reviews before pressing "buy."
Giveaways Scams	Scammers pretend you've won a contest and ask for your personal information to receive a prize.	Double-check with the actual business that you've won before submitting any personal information.
Investment Scams	Scammers propose investment opportunities with huge returns, only to disappear when you follow up for your earnings.	Be weary of any unsolicited investment opportunities. Any good investment advice should come with risk warnings.
Link Scams	Scammers entice you with clickable links that actually contain malware or other identity-compromising links.	Be mindful not to click anything that seems like it's trying too hard to draw you in.
