Finkenstadt, Tojin T. Eapen, 2024-07-08 Organizations are commonly thrust into hostile operating environments where they are required to make strategic decisions that involve significant and costly tradeoffs. Such hostile environments may be endemic such as an economic recession or idiosyncratic such as a predatory action by an adversary. Many features of such hostile environments parallel those of living organisms that also demonstrate fine-tuned strategies to improve their survivability under adverse conditions. How can organizations use these bioinspired strategies to survive and even potentially innovate? This book shows that the same three capabilities essential for the survival of living organisms in harsh environments—efficiency, resilience, and prominence—are also critical for organizations in their process of navigating through their own hostile environments. Throughout the book, the authors provide organizational executives with a systematic framework for thinking about strategic decision making in a hostile environment, leaning on analysis of real-world cases to draw out ontologies and methods for guiding their teams through disruptions, change management, innovation, and process improvements. In the first part, organizations are provided with a systematic approach to analyzing three survivability influences: forces, resources, and observers and their interrelationships. While all three influences are active across all organisms and organizations, the exact nature of their interrelationship and the significance of each influence are unique to every organism or organization. The framework helps organizations nail down the specific features of their operating environment that can help or hinder survivability by analyzing the three influences. Organizations can respond to external influences by developing three pronged capabilities: efficiency, resilience, and prominence. ERP that respond to the three survivability influences. Organizations often struggle with identifying the appropriate strategies to apply under different conditions. Fortunately, nature provides several mechanisms that can be analogically applied to guide business strategies. The book contains many illustrations and examples of strategic principles observed among living organisms that can help an organization develop ERP capability Finally the book introduces seven strategic design heuristics Combination Elimination Separation Segmentation Replication Dynamics and Maximization observed in a living system that can be flexibly utilized to generate ideas to achieve strategic ends Generative AI in Education Ilaria Torre, Diego Zapata-Rivera, Chien-Sing Lee, Antonio Sarasa-Cabezuelo, Ioana Ghergulescu, Paul Libbrecht, 2024-12-24 In the field of education there is a growing interest in the use of Generative Artificial Intelligence to reshape the educational landscape Led by our esteemed Associate Editors Dr Zapata Rivera Prof Torre and Review Editors Profs Lee Sarasa Cabezuelo Libbrecht Dr Ghergulescu this editorial initiative aims to investigate the transformative potential of Generative AI in various aspects of education By leveraging machine learning models these intelligent systems extract useful insights from vast amounts of data making them capable of delivering highly individualized content They can analyze a learner's proficiency level learning style and pace and then tailor the study material accordingly Whether a learner prefers visual aids textual content or interactive modules Generative AI can adapt its content generation strategies to meet distinct preferences and learners needs This ensures an elevated engagement level and enhanced comprehension highlighting its potential to transform traditional teaching methodologies Getting Skills Right Training Supply for the Green and AI Transitions Equipping Workers with the Right Skills OECD, 2024-12-11 Adult learning systems are being called upon to prepare workers for major labour market shifts including the green transition and the rise of artificial intelligence AI in the workplace While initial education is important upskilling and reskilling the existing workforce is essential to help individuals and businesses adapt and prepare for these transitions Policy makers face the challenge of ensuring training is both relevant and inclusive yet there is limited understanding of whether current training supply is sufficient to meet current and future skill needs Most research focuses on the demand for skills with little insight into the supply To fill this gap this report uses evidence from new OECD questionnaires and an analysis of training catalogues to evaluate whether current training supply aligns with the skills needed for the green and AI transitions It also provides insight into the accessibility and flexibility of training efforts to guide policy makers in their efforts to develop more effective inclusive training strategies The Essentials of Political Analysis Philip H.
