AI in Literary Education and Language Learning Asrifan, Andi, 2025-07-31 Artificial intelligence (AI) is transforming the ways we teach, learn and engage with language and literature, opening new possibilities for personalized learning, creative exploration and cross-cultural communication. As AI becomes more integrated into educational environments, it raises urgent questions about authorship, interpretation and the role of human agency in traditionally subjective fields. These shifts demand careful consideration of ethical implications and the development of thoughtful practices that ensure that technological adoption supports rather than undermines human-centered learning. The intersection of AI with literary and language education challenges educators and institutions to rethink pedagogy in ways that are both innovative and inclusive. AI in Literary Education and Language Learning explores how AI tools are reshaping both the practice and pedagogy of literature and language education. It addresses the challenges and ethical dilemmas that come with the increasing reliance on machine intelligence in domains traditionally rooted in human creativity and subjectivity. Covering topics such as education, assessment, literary materials and storytelling, this book is an excellent resource for educators, researchers, administrators, policymakers, researchers and more.

Digital Competence Development in Early Childhood Professionals Sarika Kewalramani, Weipeng Yang, Maria Dardanou, Maria Hatzigianni, 2025-12-04 This book examines innovative recent developments in curricula and pedagogical discourses around early childhood professionals' digital competence development via professional development avenues. By expanding the notion of digital technologies integration, teaching perspectives and educators' practices in early childhood education, the authors not only conceptualise a professional development model but also apply the model to bring together research across cultural contexts. Presenting findings from four cases, it offers research-informed, tangible examples of teacher-centric professional development one that inspires early childhood professionals teacher educators and pre service teachers to use a variety of multimodal technologies within their repertoire of play based practices e g STEM focused play for and with young children teaching computational thinking Case studies in this book are evidence of how practitioners can come together to build communities of practice to support their digital competence development as critical pedagogues and integrate a variety of evolving technology based play e g AI platforms while engaging in paradigmatic debates Readers will better appreciate the growth in pragmatic applications of technologies together with theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches This will be a valuable resource for any academic or practitioner whether beginning or expert in understanding how digital competence development occurs through cultural learnings is inclusive not discipline based is holistic In reframing early childhood professionals digital competence development as a naturalistic process it will inspire educators to integrate a range of digital and multimodal technologies in their everyday practices Handbook of Research on Integrating ICTs in STEAM Education Xefteris, Stefanos, 2022-05-27 Modern society gives great importance to scientific and technological literacy development of 21st century skills and creating individuals who are not passive users of ICT tools but active thinkers and even tinkerers The learning process is thus constantly evolving to facilitate the acquisition of such skills such as setting goals and making evidence based decisions thinking critically and solving problems while efficiently managing time as well as using technology cooperating ethically and communicating effectively STEAM is the approach to learning that uses concepts from natural sciences technology engineering arts and mathematics to foster critical thinking computational and design thinking as well working effectively together mimicking the process followed by scientists The end goal is engaged and motivated students who participate in experiential and inquiry based learning in fun immersive environments that facilitate learning through a creative process The Handbook of Research on Integrating ICTs in STEAM Education includes current research focusing on the development of STEAM and ICT educational practices tools workflows and frames of operation that encourage science skills but also skills related to the arts and humanities such as creativity imagination and reflection on ethical implications Covering topics such as early childhood education machine learning education educational robotics and web based simulations this major reference work is an essential resource for engineers educators of both K 12 and higher education education administration libraries pre service teachers computer scientists researchers and academics
