Adjusting to a World in Motion Douglas J. Besharov, Mark Hugo López, 2016 International migration has reached new heights since the 1960s Altogether some 215 million people live in countries other than their countries of birth and according to surveys another 700 million say they would leave their homes and move to another country if they could Nations both sending and receiving have responded to this growing international migrant flow with new laws and domestic programs In receiving countries they include laws and programs to control entry encourage high skilled immigration develop refugee policy and speed assimilation In sending countries governments are implementing and experimenting with new policies that link migrant diasporas back to their home countries culturally or economically or both This volume contains a series of thoughtful analyses of some of the most critical issues raised in both receiving and sending countries including US immigration policy European high skilled labor programs the experiences of migrants to the Gulf States the impact of immigration on student educational achievement and how post conflict nations connect with their diasporas This volume will help readers draw lessons for their own countries and is thus offered in the spirit of mutual learning within a continued international dialogue of research and analysis on migration

Fundamentals of Innovative Sustainable Homes Design and Construction Avi Friedman, 2023-06-26 This book offers ideas and practices on contemporary design concepts and illustrates them with plans and photographs of outstanding examples Current planning and design modes of dwellings and neighborhoods are facing challenges of philosophy and form Past approaches no longer sustain new demands and require innovative thinking The need for a new outlook is propelled by fundamental changes that touch upon environmental economic and social aspects The depletion of non renewable natural resources and climate change are a few of the environmental challenges Increasing costs of material labor land and infrastructure have posed economic challenges with affordability being paramount among them Social challenges are also drawing the attention of designers builders and homeowners Walkable communities aging in place and multigenerational living are some of the concepts considered In addition live work environments have become part of the economic reality for those who wish to work from home which has become possible through digital advances The text would be of interest to scholars working in architecture urban planning and construction
