The Journal of the National Education Association National Education Association of the United States,1922 The Journal of the National Education Association National Education Association of the United States,1932 Going Remote Matthew E. Kahn,2022-04-26 A leading urban economist s hopeful study of how shifts to remote work can change all of our lives for the better As COVID 19 descended upon the country in 2020 millions of American office workers transitioned to working from home to reduce risk of infection and prevent spread of the virus In the aftermath of this shift a significant number of workers remain at least partially remote It is clear that this massive experiment we were forced to run will have long term consequences changing the shape of our personal and work lives as well as the urban landscape around us How will the rise of telecommuting affect workers quality of life the profitability of firms and the economic geography of our cities and suburbs Going Remote addresses the uncertainties and possibilities of this moment In Going Remote urban economist Matthew E Kahn takes readers on a journey through the new remote work economy revealing how people will configure their lives when they have more freedom to choose where they work and how they live Melding ideas from labor economics family economics the theory of the firm and urban economics Kahn paints a realistic picture of the future for workers firms and urban areas big and small As Kahn shows the rise of remote work presents especially valuable opportunities for flexibility and equity in the lives of women minorities and young people and even for those whose jobs do not allow them to work from home Uncovering key implications for our quality of life Going Remote demonstrates how the rise of remote work can significantly improve the standard of living for millions of people by expanding personal freedom changing the arc of how we live work and play Journal of the National Education Association ,1921 The Colorado School Journal ,1890
New-England Journal of Education ,1913 Today's Education National Education Association of the United States,1922 New England Journal of Education Thomas Williams Bicknell,Albert Edward Winship,Anson Wood Belding,1902 Musical Observer ,1919 Teaching Old Dogs New Tricks Tom Waters,2022-11-09 This book is for corporate managers with a mandate for innovation but no idea how to make that happen C suite executives and boards of directors are increasingly looking for companies to reinvent themselves or risk being left behind With this book companies can monetize employee s ideas in a manner that doesn t cost a fortune or create conflicts of interest within the ranks Not every creative expression is going to result in tens of millions of dollars in revenue but many will create licensing opportunities that are at the very least essentially free money for new product development Another cadre of readers will realize their innovation rich futures are languishing in corporate purgatory Should they quit and pitch their million dollar idea to another organization entirely as outsiders or can they take this book to their leaders and drive change one manager at a time *N.E.A.
