to do so in a way that raises students awareness of some of the ethical and sustainability issues around it This is what Teaching Translation in the Age of Generative AI New Paradigm New Learning aims to do Articulated around three main parts Part 1 explores the new skills and competences translator educators need to help their students develop in the age of GenAI In Part 2 the focus shifts to the new knowledge such as data literacy and prompting that students in translation programmes need to engage with in the age of GenAI Finally Part 3 puts some flesh on the bones as it reviews some of the new teaching approaches adopted by colleagues since the advent of GenAI It does so by introducing the reader to a series of vignettes taken from a variety of translation related disciplines and contexts Throughout the entire edited volume the ambition is to be as accessible as possible so that this volume can be of help to as many of us in translation education as possible as we all learn to negotiate the uncharted territory of GenAI

Optimal Physical Activity across the Lifespan for People of All Abilities Ronald F. Zernicke ,David Arthur Hart, Humans evolved to be mobile within the boundary conditions of Earth and many biological and physiologic systems depend on mechanical loading to maintain integrity during growth and maturation during skeletal maturity and during the aging process These systems subscribe to the use it or lose it principle and thus require continual use to maintain integrity Given that premise considerable basic and clinical research efforts have been directed at optimizing the effectiveness and positive impact of exercise on sports performance and the well being of those with intact systems However those with disabilities or compromised abilities also benefit from exercise protocols and there exists a need to focus attention on these populations as well Given the myriad of biological and physiological systems that benefit from exercise and mechanical loading there is a need for all humans of varying abilities to not only maintain the integrity of their health but to attempt to optimize it recognizing that optimizing each person s health across the stages of the life cycle may require different exercise protocols dependent on stage of life sex genetics and other individualized variables For those with physical disabilities embracing and maintaining such exercise protocols may be challenging but expanded research translation of findings and integration of the outcomes into everyday life to enhance the health and well being of this significant population are needed going forward
