effective in my own experience and in the experiences of others Why not give some or all of these a shot You have nothing to lose but you have everything to gain Why not transform one day into TODAY if you want to start becoming wealthier Begin by reading one page at a time You ll feel a shift in your ideas mood and outlook almost immediately Many practices and techniques from all around the world are included in this book At first it may appear to be a lot but start with one or two at a time Allow the first to become a habit before moving on to the next Find what works best for you Every person is different and if a technique does not appear to be working at first NEVER GIVE UP Try until you reach success From Combines to Computers Amy Glasmeier, Marie Howland, 1995-01-01 Through an analysis of national data and detailed case studies From Combines to Computers examines how the transition to a service economy is playing out for rural America It answers two important questions Will services fill the gap left by lost farming manufacturing and mining jobs And will services stabilize even revitalize rural areas Glasmeier and Howland document the intraregional spatial patterns and trends of services in the national economy compare services in urban and rural communities and identify the potential and limitations of rural development strategies based on services In particular they document the growing dominance of branch plants the displacement of mom and pop enterprises and the declining access to services for residents in the least populated rural areas The authors conclude that services are unlikely to be the basis of widespread sustainable development unless policies are designed to help firms and communities compete successfully in an increasingly global and information based economy
