Embodying the Problem Jenna Vinson, 2017-12-11 The dominant narrative of teen pregnancy persuades many people to believe that a teenage pregnancy always leads to devastating consequences for a young woman her child and the nation in which they reside Jenna Vinson draws on feminist and rhetorical theory to explore how pregnant and mothering teens are represented as problems in U S newspapers political discourses and teenage pregnancy prevention campaigns since the 1970s Vinson shows that these representations prevent a focus on the underlying structures of inequality and poverty perpetuate harmful discourses about women and sustain racialized gender ideologies that construct women s bodies as sites of national intervention and control Embodying the Problem also explores how young mothers resist this narrative Analyzing fifty narratives written by young mothers the recent NoTeenShame social media campaign and her interviews with thirty three young women Vinson argues that while the stigmatization of teenage pregnancy and motherhood does dehumanize young pregnant and mothering women it is at the same time a means for these women to secure an audience for their own messages More information on the author s website <https://jennavinson.com>

Flee 9-5 Ben Angel, 2013-12-24 How to quit the rat race do what you love and make money doing it Ben Angel also known as the Agent of Influence is Australia's top personal branding and influence specialist. Entrepreneurs, companies, speakers and famous authors look to him when they want to learn how to engage their target audiences and the media or build a highly influential personal brand. In this new book Angel offers practical, actionable advice on how to ditch the nine to five life and do something that both inspires and enriches you. With step by step strategies on how to design, fine tune and market your business idea, this book shows you how to discover what you want to do, crack the code of the new social media landscape, find the tipping point that makes your business go viral and make money authentically by doing what you love.
