For 99% of people, affiliate marketing is how they get started. The idea behind it is that you promote other people's products often through an affiliate network, earning a commission if people actually end up buying thanks to your marketing. It's based on revenue sharing. If you have a product and want to sell more, you can offer promoters a financial incentive through an affiliate program. If you have no product and want to make money, then you can promote a product that you feel has value and earn an income from it as an affiliate marketer. Imagine this: You are out on a vacation in Hawaii with your family. Without a care in the world, you enjoy the most beautiful beaches, scenic locations, and different cultural attractions of the state. Now it's time to return home. In a normal scenario, your bank account would take a steep toll after your return unless you are already earning passive income with affiliate marketing. What if we tell you that instead of taking a beating, your financial situation can improve even after such exorbitant vacations? Affiliate Marketing: Your Hope of Earning Recurring Income for Life. No matter how absurd you find the idea above, it is possible through affiliate marketing. The digital marketing model works on revenue sharing. Affiliate marketers sell another entity's product or service and earn a commission on the number of sales they make. If done effectively, affiliate marketing can allow you to have a steady stream of passive income. Today I want to dive deeper into what affiliate marketing actually is, what sides there are to it, and how to get started. So let's dive into my affiliate marketing guide. Ready? ORDER YOUR BOOK NOW.
