the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) Tapiwa Victor Warikandwa, Howard Chitimira, Patrick C. Osode, 2025-10-15

The Africa We Want has developed as a critical long term development strategy for the African continent and has never been more relevant than in this book which provides a thorough examination of the African Continental Free Trade Area's role in expanding intra African commerce and strengthening Africa's trade position in the world market. Gathering chapters written by experts on commercial law, economic law, international trade law and related fields, it seeks to answer the following question: what are the issues that influence the African Continental Free Trade Area's potential and challenges? The book provides an in-depth analysis of various contemporary aspects within the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) as well as country-specific case studies and comparative analyses of selected developments that inform the AfCFTA. As the authors show, the AfCFTA faces substantial and numerous challenges that include the existence of different regulatory environments in different countries, political instability, technical and technological shortcomings, businesses' inability to obtain credit from banks, among other issues. This book will appeal to trade lawyers, economists, financial and prudential regulation analysts, researchers, policy and development analysts, government officials, among others. The book highlights the undeniable need for adequate continental legislative and policy frameworks to facilitate intra-Africa trade, foreign direct investment and ease of doing business on the continent.

The African Continental Free Trade Area Agreement Kofi Oteng Kufuor, 2024-02-06

In 2018, the members of the African Union adopted the African Continental Free Trade Area Agreement (AfCFTA). This book examines the AfCFTA, dissecting its key provisions. It stresses the importance of the AfCFTA in the context of increasing episodes of trade protection in Africa and theorizes on the role of the treaty organs. The book also examines the importance of citizen participation for the success of the AfCFTA as well as exploring the role sub-state actors can play. Ultimately, the study adds to the understanding of the array of problems that are associated with regional trade in Africa and the role law plays in resolving these problems. It will be of importance to academics and students of international law, especially those with an interest in African trade law as well as legal professionals and policymakers.

The African Continental Free Trade Area Evita Schmieg, 2020

Zusammenfassung: The Agreement Establishing the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) came into force in May 2019. Ultimately, the AfCFTA is designed to create a comprehensive African market. What is done at this stage is set in motion: a set of complex and foreseeably very lengthy negotiations. The outcome of that process will not yet be full free trade in Africa, but it will bring about a reduction in tariffs with the potential to stimulate production and trade and boost regional value chains. It is, however, too early to be discussing modifying the European Union's trade policy towards Africa or for this to be an issue for the upcoming German Council Presidency. Nevertheless, Germany and the European Union should continue to follow and support the process of establishing the AfCFTA, which is an important political process with significant long-term economic potential for Africa.

THE CONSPIRACY AGAINST AFRICA Charles Akujieze, 2023-09-23

The Conspiracy Against Africa unveils a resonating truth that echoes across borders. With insightful precision the book navigates the intricate reasons behind Africa's ongoing economic challenges and subjugation. Tracing the pages of history, the narrative illuminates the complex interplay between the West and Africa. Here, Africa's path to prosperity is shackled by the West's unquenchable appetite for its resources. This chokehold on Africa's raw materials keeps the global equilibrium but at what expense. Unraveling layers of inefficiency, ethical cracks, and integrity gaps, the book dissects Africa's relationship with the Western world. It exposes vested interests that hold back progress with unyielding tenacity. Yet within this stark analysis, a call to arms resounds, a rallying cry brimming with urgency and optimism, inviting every African to reclaim their essence and dreams. This stands as a pivotal turning point, urging Africans to cast aside shadows that bind them, seizing the reins of fate and forging a destiny that defies exploitation. The Conspiracy Against Africa is more than a book; it's an awakening, an assertion of empowerment amidst suppression. It lays bare truths long obscured, inviting you on this narrative journey to reclaim Africa's story and usher in an era of empowerment, justice, and self-determination. African

Continental Free Trade Area, 2016. Africa-EU Relations and the African Continental Free Trade Area. Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, Leon Mwamba Tshimpaka, 2023-08-10. This book explores relations between states in the Africa-European Union in view of the African Continental Free Trade Area, both at a regional level and as a series of informal processes of socioeconomic and political interactions between state and non-state actors. The book reconsiders the ways in which actors in the Africa-European Union relationship function and what that means for regionalism, regionalisation, and regional integration. In addition to formalised state-to-state and inter-regional interactions, the book examines the impact of socioeconomic and political interactions with non-state actors, including those who engage with regional integration through formal and informal processes such as civil society activists, African migration evangelists, human smugglers, and human traffickers. The book thus demonstrates that regional and inter-regional engagements include issues that extend beyond the usual discussions of trade. The book is authored from an African perspective and will be of interest to academics who specialise in International Relations, Political Economy, Political Sociology, and African Studies. Policy makers and various actors in civil society and think tanks who have an academic inclination and deal with trade, migration, and regionalism in Africa, and Africa's relations with Europe, will also find the book beneficial. The African Continental Free Trade Area: Potential Economic Impact and Challenges. Mr. Lisandro Abrego, Mr. Mario de Zamaroczy, Tunc Gursoy, Garth P.

Nicholls, Hector Perez-Saiz, Jose-Nicolas Rosas, 2020-05-13. Political momentum towards Africa-wide free trade has been intensifying. In March 2018, over 40 countries signed the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) agreement. Once fully implemented, the AfCFTA is expected to cover all 55 African countries with a combined GDP of about US$ 2.2 trillion. This SDN takes stock of recent trade developments in Sub-Saharan Africa and assesses the potential benefits and costs of the AfCFTA, as well as challenges to its successful implementation. In addition to increased trade flows, both in existing and new products, the AfCFTA has the potential to generate substantial economic benefits for African countries. These benefits include higher income arising from increased efficiency and productivity from improved resource allocation higher cross border investment flows and technology transfers Besides lowering import tariffs to ensure these benefits African countries will need reduce other trade barriers by making more efficient their customs procedures reducing their wide infrastructure gaps and improving their business climates At the same time policy measures should be taken to mitigate the differential impact of trade liberalization on certain groups as resources are reallocated in the economy and activities migrate to locations with comparatively lower costs

The African Continental Free Trade Area The World Bank,2020-08 The African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA agreement will create the largest free trade area in the world measured by the number of countries participating The pact will connect 1.3 billion people across 55 countries with a combined GDP valued at 3.4 trillion It has the potential to lift 30 million people out of extreme poverty by 2035 But achieving its full potential will depend on putting in place significant policy reforms and trade facilitation measures The scope of the agreement is considerable It will reduce tariffs among member countries and cover policy areas such as trade facilitation and services as well as regulatory measures such as sanitary standards and technical barriers to trade It will complement existing subregional economic communities and trade agreements by offering a continent wide regulatory framework and by regulating policy areas such as investment and intellectual property rights protection that have not been covered in most subregional agreements The African Continental Free Trade Area Economic and Distributional Effects quantifies the long term implications of the agreement for growth trade poverty reduction and employment Its analysis goes beyond that in previous studies that have largely focused on tariff and nontariff barriers in goods by including the effects of services and trade facilitation measures as well as the distributional impacts on poverty employment and wages of female and male workers It is designed to guide policy makers as they develop and implement the extensive range of reforms needed to realize the substantial rewards that the agreement offers The analysis shows that full implementation of AfCFTA could boost income by 7 percent or nearly 450 billion in 2014 prices and market exchange rates The agreement would also significantly expand African trade particularly intraregional trade in manufacturing In addition it would increase employment opportunities and wages for unskilled workers and help close the wage gap between men and women

Making the African Continental Free Trade Agreement a Success Albert G. Zeufack,Fulbert Tchana Tchana,Aly Sanoh,2024-04-05 In 2019 African heads of state and governments launched in fanfare the African Continental Free Trade Agreement AfCFTA a historic agreement for economic transformation across the continent But now comes the hard bit how to make the agreement a success In this book senior experts from across the world come together to provide a comprehensive analysis of the conditions needed for AfCFTA to successfully spur economic development in Africa It puts forward three foundations for success demography dividend digital economy and economic diversification In addition to trade policy the book recommends that African policymakers should strengthen fiscal and monetary policy coordination adopt and implement the appropriate regulatory environment and build suitable connectivity infrastructure The stakes are high If implemented correctly the book argues that AfCFTA could speed up trade within Africa which could double every five years Success would mean growth investment changing trade patterns jobs economic transformation poverty reduction and a continental market for services Driven by concrete evidence based strategies for long term growth this book is an essential read for policy makers development practitioners economics researchers and everyone with an interest in the future of Africa

Guidelines for Developing African Continental Free Trade Area National Strategies Vereinte Nationen Wirtschaftskommission für Afrika,Afrikanische Union,African Trade Policy Centre,2021 This document is aimed at providing guidelines for the development of national strategies for the implementation of the African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA for the State Parties to the Agreement Establishing the African Continental Free Trade Area These Guidelines were prepared by the Economic Commission for Africa in collaboration with the African Union Commission and were further enriched by inputs from experts during a validation expert group meeting organized in Libreville in March 2019 The issues discussed thus far need to be examined in more detail and in an integrated manner the make AfCFTA a reality In this regard the development of AfCFTA national strategies by the State Parties to the Agreement is important to support the effective implementation of the Agreement African Continental Free Trade Area African Trade Policy Centre,2018 The Cooperation on Competition Policy Under the African Continental Free Trade Area Vellah Kedogo

Kigwiru,2020 The dream of establishing an African common market that would lead to an African Economic Community begun in the 1980s when the Lagos Plan of Action for the Economic Development of Africa was adopted The establishment of the African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA which came into force on 30th May 2019 provides the most recent and perhaps the most critical milestone in the integration process because it provides a foundation upon which an African Customs Union can materialize It is recognized that for the AfCFTA to meet its general objectives under Article 3 of the AfCFTA Framework Agreement States Parties need to cooperate on competition policy which is part of the second phase of the negotiations that will culminate into a Protocol on Competition Policy At the time of writing this paper the negotiations on the cooperation on competition policy are on the horizon As such this paper seeks to inform the design and implementation of the proposed competition policy under the AfCFTA by espousing the benefits potential and challenges of adopting a continental competition policy framework More importantly building upon the literature on competition policy under free trade areas FTAs this paper also seeks to answer a pertinent question on the mind of the majority of stakeholders which is how should a competition policy under the AfCFTA be fashioned

Activities Undertaken by UNCTAD in Support of Africa United Nations Conference on Trade and Development. Trade and Development Board,2016 Competition Policy Options for the African Continental Free Trade Area Salome Chapeyama Mdala,2022 Regional Trade Agreements RTA such as the recently formed African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA can resolve some of Africa s key enforcement issues in the area of competition law and policy The Competition Protocol which will result from the Phase II negotiations is critical in ensuring that anti competitive practices do not undermine the AfCFTA s liberalisation benefits This article discusses the following key considerations when developing an AfCFTA competition policy the theoretical framework of competition regulation the intersection of trade and competition policy and the models for regional competition regulatory frameworks The article asserts that the optimum competition regulation in the AfCFTA should have a balance between intervention and free market principles Further it suggests a semi supranational competition framework that establishes basic standards for competition policy that all members must adhere to

The African Continental Free Trade Area and Its Implications for India-Africa Trade Abhishek Mishra,2018 The African countries are set to launch the African Continental Free Trade Area or AfCFTA the biggest free trade agreement in the world since the World Trade Organization was created in the 1990s When implemented the AfCFTA is projected to increase intra African trade by 52.3 percent by 2022 from 2010 levels In turn higher trade levels can facilitate economic growth transform domestic economies and help the countries achieve the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs This paper analyses the AfCFTA in the context of the continent s long history of efforts at regional integration It also examines the potential impact of the AfCFTA on India Africa trade and bilateral investments and argues that India must actively support the African efforts for AfCFTA
