

How Parīkṣit Received the Age of Kali

Mahārāja Parīkṣit then began to rule over the world as a great devotee of the Lord under the instructions of the best of the twice-born brāhmaṇas. He ruled by those great qualities which were foretold by expert astrologers at the time of his birth.

King Parīkṣit married the daughter of King Uttara and begot four sons, headed by Mahārāja

Movies in the Age of Obama David Garrett Izzo, 2014-08-26 The historic election of Barack Obama to the presidency of the United States had a significant impact on both America and the world at large By voting an African American into the highest office those who elected Obama did not necessarily look past race but rather didn't let race prevent them from casting their ballots in his favor In addition to reflecting the changing political climate Obama's presidency also spurred a cultural shift notably in music television and film In Movies in the Age of Obama: The Era of Post Racial and Neo Racist Cinema David Garrett Izzo presents a varied collection of essays that examine films produced since the 2008 election The contributors to these essays comment on a number of films in which race and otherness are pivotal elements In addition to discussing such films as Beasts of the Southern Wild Black Dynamite The Blind Side The Butler Django Unchained The Help and Invictus this collection also includes essays that probe racial elements in The Great Gatsby The Hunger Games and The Mist The volume concludes with several essays that examine the 2013 Academy Award winner for best picture 12 Years a Slave Though Obama's election may have been the main impetus for a resurgence of black films this development is a bit more complicated Moviemakers have long responded to the changing times so it is inevitable that the Obama presidency would spark an increase in films that comment either subtly or overtly on the current cultural climate By looking at the issue these films address Movies in the Age of Obama will be of value to film scholars of course but also to those interested in other disciplines including history politics and cultural studies

Costs of Disarmament Susan Willett, 2003 This is the third in a series of books that look at the costs and benefits of arms control and disarmament It looks at what happens when there are no controls i.e. the costs of an arms race by examining the case of India and Pakistan It concludes that the high levels of military expenditure have led to increasing tension and insecurity whilst the costs of the programmes have retarded the pace of development Pakistan in particular has many of the characteristics of a failing state The book concludes with some suggestions as to how India and Pakistan could break out of their destructive cycle

Journal of Vaisṇava Studies, 2004
Smarter Than You Think Clive Thompson, 2013-09-12 A revelatory and timely look at how technology boosts our cognitive abilities making us smarter more productive and more creative than ever It's undeniable technology is changing the way we think But is it for the better Amid a chorus of doomsayers Clive Thompson delivers a resounding yes In Smarter Than You Think Thompson shows that every technological innovation from the written word to the printing press to the telegraph has provoked the very same anxieties that plague us today We panic that life will never be the same that our attentions are eroding that culture is being trivialized But as in the past we adapt learning to use the new and retaining what is good of the old Smarter Than You Think embraces and extols this transformation presenting an exciting vision of the present and the future Food for Thought Colleen M. Heflin, Madonna Harrington Meyer, 2025-09-05 While food insecurity among households with children often makes the headlines a quieter issue that receives much less attention is the food insecurity faced by older adults In 2023 over nine percent of Americans age sixty and older were food insecure Without policy intervention that number is only expected to grow as the U S population continues to age In Food for Thought social policy scholar Colleen M Heflin and sociologist Madonna Harrington Meyer illuminate the challenges faced by food insecure older adults Through analysis of national data sets and interviews with lower income older adults Heflin and Harrington Meyer describe why many older adults do not have enough money to afford food and other essentials As a result of chronic economic disadvantage food insecure older adults are often forced to make budget trade offs between food and other expenses In these trade offs food typically ranks below housing and energy costs and competes with other household bills such as medical costs transportation and phone and internet coverage While finances play a large role nonfinancial factors such as poor physical cognitive and mental health access to healthy food and transportation challenges also contribute to food insecurity in old age In the face of these difficulties food insecure older adults may go hungry skip meals or eat unhealthy foods to help make ends meet While SNAP and community based programs such as food pantries and home delivered meals are intended to help address the issue of food insecurity they are typically inadequate to address the needs of food insecure older adults SNAP has enrollment and maintenance procedures that are particularly difficult for older adults to navigate pays out an insufficient amount of money to cover food costs and varies greatly by state Availability of community programs varies by municipality often lacks nutritious foods that are complementary to health conditions common among older adults and can be difficult to access due to a lack of reliable transportation disability or cost Heflin and Harrington Meyer advocate for addressing all the issues that increase older adults risk of food insecurity not just financial barriers They suggest updating food insecurity screening tools to include these factors increasing SNAP benefits and income support for older adults and other policies to help combat food insecurity in older adults Food for Thought highlights the increasingly important issue of food insecurity in old age and lays bare the overlooked challenges faced by food insecure older adults

Children and Scars of COVID-19 Pandemic in India Abhimanyu Datta, Bipin Jojo, 2024-03-05 This volume discusses the various challenges faced by children in India from different perspectives such as education psychology and sociology during the COVID 19 pandemic It highlights the nature of undocumented struggles of refugees children with special needs girl children girl child child labourers children from SC ST and other disadvantaged communities and migrant children in India The book examines the lack of a social justice framework to cater to children s needs and wellbeing It discusses how intersectional location of these children in caste class gender ethnicity and religious locations shape their ability to access
