The Agricultural Policy of Muhammad 'Ali in Egypt Helen Anne B. Rivlin, 1961 Agriculture was the basis of the Egyptian economy when Muhammad Ali Founder of modern Egypt was appointed governor of Egypt by the Ottoman sultan in 1805 Dr Rivlin's purpose is to discover if Muhammad Ali had a well conceived agricultural policy of lasting significance for the development of Egyptian institutions The conclusion reached after careful analysis of the problem from every facet is that far from having an agricultural policy per se Muhammad Ali merely utilized the agricultural wealth of Egypt for the purposes of personal aggrandizement and the attainment of a position of great power and independence for himself and his descendants within the Ottoman empire The measures taken by Muhammad Ali affecting land tenure replaced one class of landholders by another to the detriment of the peasant class and the religious institution Although the Pasha can be credited with changing the Egyptian economy from a subsistence to a cash crop economy by the investment of capital in the development of agriculture the financial benefits gained thereby accrued primarily to the Pasha himself Instead of using these profits for economic purposes Muhammad Ali embarked upon a program of military adventurism that eventually undermined the economic life of the country and brought only limited political gains to Egypt Muhammad Ali's domestic policies established the social and economic pattern which prevailed until the Egyptian Revolution of 1952 and are largely responsible for many of Egypt's present problems Dr Rivlin's study is of major importance to students of the contemporary Egyptian scene and should serve as an object lesson for present planners in underdeveloped countries from dust jacket

The Agricultural Policy of Muhammad 'Ali in Egypt Helen Anne B. Rivlin, 1979      A History of Islamic Societies Ira M.

Lapidus, 2014-10-13 This third edition of Ira M Lapidus's classic A History of Islamic Societies has been substantially revised to incorporate the insights of new scholarship and updated to include historical developments in the first decade of the twenty first century Lapidus's history explores the beginnings and transformations of Islamic civilizations in the Middle East and details Islam's worldwide diffusion to Africa Spain Turkey and the Balkans Central South and Southeast Asia and North America situating Islamic societies within their global political and economic contexts It accounts for the impact of European imperialism on Islamic societies and traces the development of the modern national state system and the simultaneous Islamic revival from the early nineteenth century to the present This book is essential for readers seeking to understand Muslim peoples Publisher information      The Agricultural Policy of Muhammad 'Ali in Egypt Donald Cameron Rowat, 1961

Rural Politics in Nasser's Egypt James B. Mayfield, 2014-09-01 On September 29 1970 President Gamal Abdel Nasser died of a heart attack The hysterical outpouring of grief at the state funeral dramatized the depth to which the loss of this charismatic leader shook the Arab world Few men have achieved the love prestige and adulation that Nasser received from the Arab masses Yet in reality Nasser's political life was a tragic story This book is a careful analysis of Nasser's belated attempts to modernize the rural areas of Egypt It documents the political economic and social factors that made Nasser's dream for his people unattainable in his lifetime Forced to choose between domestic needs and international challenges Nasser's attention was too often directed beyond the borders of Egypt His vision of renewed Arab greatness his dream of Arab unity and his concern for Arab development often distorted his perception of his own country While no one who personally conversed with Nasser doubted his sincere desire for a better life for the peasants of the Nile Valley many noted his tendency to allocate resources more on the basis of dreams rather than the realities of Egypt's domestic problems Granted permission to move freely through Egypt's twenty five provinces prior to the 1967 travel restrictions James B Mayfield had a unique opportunity to personally observe Nasser's dramatic attempts to bring progress and development to his people The two decades of Nasser's rule colored and shaped events in Egypt for many years after his death The
