

A man with a beard and glasses, wearing a red and black plaid shirt, is sitting at a desk in a dimly lit room. He is viewed from the side, focused on his work. He is using a dual-monitor computer system. The primary monitor displays a video editing interface with a green-tinted preview window. The secondary monitor shows a grid of video thumbnails. His hands are on a keyboard. On the desk, there is a desk lamp, a cup of pens, and a small potted plant. The background features a brick wall with some decorative items.

Specifically it presents a fresh look at how technology based science inspired projects can be innovatively delivered through artistic methods. It explores a selection of inventions gained through the collaboration of internationalist professionals in various fields of knowledge before outlining a new approach in how knowledge can be delivered using the inventions in a novel visual way through action based visual storytelling, video, graphical display and visualization. Crucially it looks at how current media and techniques used for presenting topics in industries, corporations, commerce and marketing companies could be successfully translated and developed as a presentation skill in the school, college or university environment. It thus seeks to address the skills that prospective employers expect from students in terms of possessing the ability to create visual presentations of data, solutions and products. With a sharp focus on the current generation schools, academies, business and marketing companies and catering to the modern demand for novelty in presentation it makes a strong contribution to the conversation around professional collaboration, visual communication, knowledge transfer, novel technologies and knowledge visualization. PC AI. ,1996 Computer Book Review ,1986 Plastic Surgery E-Book Geoffrey C.
