

The Countries Attracting the Most Digital Nomads

When all you need is a laptop, a good Wi-Fi connection and a compatible job, it's easy to see why some people — termed digital nomads — choose to travel the world and work as they go. Forbes writes that it's a global community that's 35 million strong — but where are they all working from?

It's hard to track a nomad, so we turned to Instagram, finding more posts tagged with #digitalnomad (an estimated 255,664) in the U.S. than in any other country. According to Statista, the main nationality of digital nomads worldwide is American, so perhaps many nomads are staying within U.S. borders.
