Rosak-Szyrocka, Sumit Tripathi, Manuel B. Garcia, Giuseppe Festa, Markus A. Launer, 2025-11-13 This book offers a comprehensive guide to navigating the transformation of the workforce due to the influence of artificial intelligence (AI) across industries and discusses detailed strategies for executing reskilling and upskilling programs for professionals and managers in charge of workforce development, training, and employee retention in an AI-driven landscape. As AI continues to reshape sectors and redefine job roles, the need for a strategy for an adaptable and well-equipped workforce has never been more critical. By analyzing AI's integration with other emerging technologies such as blockchain and IoT and their specific impact across sectors, this book prepares readers to meet the unique demands of an AI-driven workforce transformation. Covers strategies for executing reskilling and upskilling programs for professionals and managers in charge of workforce development, training, and employee retention in an AI-driven landscape. Provides actionable insight with a global outlook and offers customized approaches for workforce transformation in key sectors such as healthcare, manufacturing, and finance. Acknowledging the distinct challenges and opportunities across geographies, it includes in-depth case studies from both developed and emerging economies to showcase diverse workforce adaptation strategies. Emphasizes ethical considerations such as data privacy and AI bias, as well as the crucial role of leadership in driving a workforce prepared for AI disruptions. Offers a forward-looking approach to developing resilient, adaptable workers equipped for continuous learning and responsive to rapid technological advances. This professional text is for business professionals, leaders, workforce development professionals, scholars, and academics aiming to thrive in an AI-driven economy. Workers Without Companies Sylvie Célérier, Alberto Riesco-Sanz, 2025-09-22 Workers Without Companies contributes to the debate on the future of work in a productive landscape that is now global while ways of working diversify at an unprecedented pace. Faced with several decades of mass unemployment in Europe and the activation of self-employment, especially through intermediary platforms, this book examines the transformation of the wage system not only in traditional salaried sectors but also in self employment agriculture and the field of science and knowledge production The authors identify a common movement the growing detachment between companies and their employees This deep rooted and enduring trend is reshaping the wage relationship at the core of modern societies continuously altering and destabilising workers lives Recognising this shift is essential to interrogating what work and our lives will become in the years ahead The book therefore concludes with a proposed research agenda structured around five key axes As such Workers Without Companies will appeal to sociologists with interests in work and industry employment and unemployment organisation studies and labour relations Data-Driven Innovation in the

Creative Industries Melissa Terras,Vikki Jones,Nicola Osborne,Chris Speed,2024-04-17 The creative industries the place where art business and technology meet in economic activity have been hugely affected by the relatively recent digitalisation and often monetisation of work home relationships and leisure Such trends were accelerated by the global COVID 19 pandemic This edited collection examines how the creative industries can be supported to make best use of opportunities in digital technology and data driven innovation Since digital markets and platforms are now essential for revenue generation and audience engagement there is a vital need for improved data and digital skills in the creative and cultural sectors Taking a necessarily global perspective this book explores the challenges and opportunities of data driven approaches to creativity in different contexts across the arts cultural and heritage sectors Chapters reach beyond the platforms and approaches provided by the technology sector to delve into the collaborative work that supports innovation around the interdisciplinary and cross sectoral issues that emerge where data infrastructures and approaches meet creativity A novel intervention that uniquely centres the role of data in the theory and practice of creative industries innovation this book is valuable reading for those researching and studying the creative economy as well for those who drive investment for the creative industries in a digitalised society The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 International license The COVID-19

Digitalised Talent Management Sharna Wiblen, 2021-01-31 This book focuses on digitalised talent management the use of information technologies in talent management The book affords theoretically methodologically and empirically informed insights that are especially salient given the need for executives and organisations to balance the role of humans and technology while ensuring competitiveness in this interconnected and increasingly digital world In doing so the book will shape and contribute to academic and industry based conversations about the role of technological innovations in enabling organizations to transition towards digital ways of organising talent as well as the associated implications for the who what where when and why of talent management as stakeholders decide which aspects of talent management can be delegated to technology and those that require human agency This book adds value by assembling subject matter experts currently siloed within traditional research domains whilst also highlighting the complexity of managing talent By synthesising content from world leading academics who herald from various backgrounds the book will instigate shape and contribute to conversations about both the promises and perils of digitalised talent management and the extent to which judgments and decisions about an organisations most valuable asset it s talent should be delegated to non human agents This book will be of interest to researchers academics and students in the fields of talent management and organisational design especially those interested in digital ways of working managing and leading

The Global Information Society Wendy Currie, 2000-05-18 The Global Information Society Wendy Currie The last few decades have witnessed profound changes in the structure culture management and technology of organisations Just as information technology offers both opportunities and threats to organisations the Internet and its potential for electronic commerce poses fresh challenges So far much hype surrounds the subject of electronic commerce and its possibilities for leveraging business advantage Whilst governments on both sides of the Atlantic urge companies to invest in Internet technology and develop e business past lessons from IT investment have often been disappointing Likewise the rapid growth of IT outsourcing in the 1980s and 1990s produced mixed results Whereas some companies successfully reduced costs and improved their performance through outsourcing others were permanently damaged as management failed to address important issues relating to the IT strategy and infrastructure The Global Information Society addresses the phenomenon of the global information society in the context of market technology management practice capabilities and skills and the role of government Designed for academics practitioners and students this book does not offer simple solutions to complex business problems Instead it critically evaluates models frameworks debates and observations relating to these five key themes within the global information society How to Make $50,000 a Year (or More) as a Freelance Business Writer Paul D.
