Layers of the Earth

Chapter 1: Temperature and Composition

Temperature: Temperatures deep inside the earth can range from $5,000^{\circ}\text{C}$ ($9,000^{\circ}\text{F}$). That's as hot as the sun! Because of heat, intense pressures, and radioactive decay, instead of having long-lived (billions of years) life, it is already dead. Only about a century of life after conditions are created only are about 100 years. The temperatures inside the earth are about $5,000^{\circ}\text{C}$ with the temperature decreasing as you go down, being the coldest, approximately about 100°C at the surface.

The diagram illustrates the Earth's internal structure. A wedge-shaped section of the Earth is shown, revealing the following layers from the surface down: Crust (thin, light blue), Mantle (divided into upper and lower sections, colored orange and red), and Core (divided into outer and inner sections, colored yellow and red). A separate globe shows the Earth's surface with continents and oceans. Labels include 'Crust', 'Mantle', 'Core', 'Upper mantle', 'Lower mantle', 'Outer core', and 'Inner core'. A handwritten note 'extremely high temperatures' is written near the core.

The lithosphere is the outer layer, averaging about $1,000^{\circ}\text{C}$, and is slightly cooler than the atmosphere above it. It includes the crust and the upper mantle, or the part between the crust and the asthenosphere. The upper mantle is the hottest part of the lithosphere, at about $1,000^{\circ}\text{C}$, and the lower mantle is the coolest, reaching temperatures over $5,000^{\circ}\text{C}$.

Finally, the core is the hottest at about $5,000^{\circ}\text{C}$, being the "engine" of the planet.

The screenshot displays the 'Notepad' app's 'Template' section. At the top, there's a status bar showing 9:02, signal strength, and battery level. Below the status bar, a navigation bar contains a back arrow, the word 'Back', a search icon, and the word 'Notepad'. The main content area is titled 'Template' and features a grid of template cards. Each card shows a preview of the template, its name, and a button to either 'Download' or 'Create' it. The templates include 'Index Notebook', 'Monthly Planner', 'Sketchbook', and 'Paper Planner'. The app's interface is clean and modern, with a white background and a purple accent color for the buttons.
