Social Structure

Adaptation to COVID-19 Suresh Nanwani, William Loxley, 2024-03-19

Social Structure Adaptation to COVID-19 offers global interdisciplinary perspectives that examine how the COVID-19 pandemic has altered the development trajectory of schools, public health, the workforce, and technology adoption. It explores social themes in society, economy, policy, and culture and draws on a social framework to describe key functions of societal adaptation to the pandemic. Edited by Suresh Nanwani and William Loxley, the volume is grounded in the study of system components and their objectives to improve overall well-being given the ill effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. Chapters explore interconnected social networks and how sectors restructured themselves to stabilize or transform society International contributors from 20 countries offer case studies that highlight key themes including personal connectivity societal equality well being big data and national resilience They predict how impactful the pandemic might be in reshaping the future and assess how the COVID 19 pandemic has affected school system shutdown public health collapse business closures public policy failure and technology driven social media acceleration Offering insights into how institutions and sectors work together in times of crisis and how COVID 19 has restructured social behavior Social Structure Adaptation to COVID 19 will be valuable reading for scholars and students of sociology political science anthropology comparative international development psychology and education It will also be of interest to policymakers concerned with education work and organizations and media and technology The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 international license

Being at Work Mark Cole, 2025-11-18 This thought provoking and ground breaking book offers a way for us all to consider our experience of being at work and of the nature of working life Written in an engaging and accessible style it presents the practical means by which to apply central features of existentialism to make sense of how we relate to work and the workplace These include topics such as freedom and choice looking for purpose and making meaning and authenticity We spend a great deal of time at work and being at work is often a challenge Reference to the past in a corporate context tends to see it as a graveyard for errors and failures the future is something articulated by senior leaders and the place to which we are expected to travel in terms of their definition The specious present is the place where we experience our being in the moment the location where we do our work but it is rarely acknowledged in the places where we work This book offers new insights into how we can all meaningfully live our lives in the context of the world of work To do this it offers a personalised understanding of the existentialist way of philosophising It looks to simplify complex concepts in order to offer the reader a different way of thinking about the time that they spend at work and how they might consider different and more positive ways of being in such an environment It recognises that we spend a considerable amount of our life in the workplace and so argues that we need to consider that and find ways in which to make that experience personally meaningful Where other practices designed to help people to make sense of their actual experience are introspective existentialism is reflexive and active Similarly where those other approaches are deeply individualistic existentialism constantly reminds us that our choices are undertaken in relation to others and that they have a collective implication Whether you are keen to make sense of your experience of workplace and what it means to be a human being in that context or looking to explore how you embrace the challenges of being a leader in business this book will offer you rich perspectives for sense making and ways of rethinking your presence at work
