In Search of Global Patterns James N. Rosenau, 1976 Global pattern and trend of liver cancer survival: a systematic review of population-based studies Yu-Fei Jiang, Zhuo-Ying Li, Xiao-Wei Ji, Qiu-Ming Shen, Jia-Yi Tuo, Hui-Yun Yuan, Yong-Bing Xiang, 2020-08-15 Aim To describe the global pattern and trend of liver cancer survival using data from the population based studies or cancer registration Methods By searching CNKI Wanfang Data PubMed Web of Science EMBASE and SEER All population based survival studies of liver cancer from 1 January 2000 to 30 April 2020 were collected and evaluated by patient gender time period and country The overall or age standardized five year relative survival rate was used to describe the pattern and changes in liver cancer survival over the past decades Results Globally the highest age standardized five year relative survival rate was observed in Italy 18.0% 2005-2007 and the highest overall five year relative survival rate was observed in Korea 34.6% 2012-2016 when compared to other countries The most remarkable increase in overall five year relative survival rate can be seen in Korea from 10.7% during 1993-1995 to 34.6% during 2012-2016 In general worldwide the five year relative survival rate of younger patients with liver cancer was higher than old people For most countries the five year relative survival rate of liver cancer was slightly higher in women than in men In China the overall five year relative survival rate of liver cancer in Taiwan was higher than that in other areas while Cixian of Hebei and Qidong of Jiangsu were lower Conclusion Over the past decades the survival rates of liver cancer have gradually improved but great variations are also observed globally Worldwide younger patients with liver cancer have experienced a better prognosis Gender disparity in liver cancer survival was not obvious The Global Economy as Political Space Stephen J. Rosow, Naeem

Inayatullah, Mark Rupert, 1994 Explores the social political philosophical and cultural dimensions of the shift from a nation state based economy to a global economy Deep-Sea Food Chains and the Global Carbon Cycle G.T. Rowe, Vita Pariente, 2012-12-06 Carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases are increasing in the atmosphere due to the burning of fossil fuels the destruction of rain forests etc leading to predictions of a gradual global warming which will perturb the global biosphere An important process which counters this trend toward potential climate change is the removal of carbon dioxide from the surface ocean by photosynthesis This process packages carbon in phytoplankton which enter the food chain or sink into the deep sea Their ultimate fate is a rain of organic debris out of the surface mixed layer of the ocean On a global scale the mechanisms and overall rate of this process are poorly known The authors of the 25 papers in this volume present their state of the art approaches to quantifying the mechanisms by which the rain of biogenic debris nourishes deep ocean life Prominent deep sea ecologists geochemists and modelers address relationships between data and models of carbon fluxes and food chains in the deep ocean An attempt is made to estimate the fate of carbon in the deep sea on a global scale by summing up the utilization of organic matter among all the populations of the abyssal biosphere Comparisons are made between these ecological approaches and estimates of geochemical fluxes based on sediment trapping one dimensional geochemical models and horizontal physical input from continental margins Planning interdisciplinary enterprises between geochemists and ecologists including new field programs are summarized in the final chapter The summary includes a list of the important gaps in understanding which must be addressed before the role of the deep sea biota in global scale processes can be put in perspective Encyclopedia of Global Studies Helmut K. Anheier, Mark Juergensmeyer, 2012-03-09 With all entries followed by cross references and further reading lists this current resource is ideal for high school and college students looking for connecting ideas and additional sources on them The work brings together the many facets of global studies into a solid reference tool and will help those developing and articulating an ideological perspective Library Journal The Encyclopedia of Global Studies is the reference work for the emerging field of global studies It covers both transnational topics and intellectual approaches to the study of global themes including the globalization of economies and technologies the diaspora of cultures and dispersion of peoples the transnational aspects of social and political change the global impact of environmental technological and health changes and the organizations and issues related to global civil society Key Themes Global civil society Global communications transportation technology Global conflict and security Global culture media Global demographic change Global economic issues Global environmental and energy issues Global governance and world order Global health and nutrition Global historical antecedents Global justice and legal issues Global religions beliefs ideologies Global studies Identities in global society Readership Students and academics in the fields of politics and international relations international business geography and environmental studies sociology and cultural studies and health The Elusive Quest Yale H. Ferguson, Richard W. Mansbach, 1988 Ferguson and Mansbach argue that international relations theory is subjective since it reflects attitudes grounded in social or political milieus They challenge the canons of realism and idealism and contrast normative poles such as mutability immutability optimism pessimism elitism nonelitism and competitiveness community They also argue that conceptual inadequacy inhibits theory while theoretical anarchy prevails among various contemporary non rational actor and foreign policy approaches ISBN 0 87249 539 6 29 95 Handbook of Research on Emerging Perspectives in Intelligent Pattern Recognition, Analysis, and Image Processing Kamila, Narendra Kumar, 2015-11-30 Patterns of Global Terrorism 1985-2005 Anna Sabastianski, 2005 Patterns of Global Terrorism 1985 2004 U S Department of State Documents and Supplementary Material is a comprehensive reference for students of politics international relations history public policy and the military This two volume set collects the U S Department of State reports for the first time in a coherent accessible resource that is essential for college school and public libraries as well as government and industry analysts Berkshire Publishing a company known for coverage of international political and religious trends has organized this ground breaking reference into a unique collection of analytical and statistical material with additional background and linking of information Never before published in book form these documents are the most complete and authoritative historical documents on terrorism around the globe Conceptual Modeling ER'99 Jacky

Akoka, Mokrane Bouzeghoub, Isabelle Comyn-Wattiau, Elisabeth Metais, 2003-07-31 This book provides a comprehensive state of the art in conceptual modeling It grew out of research papers presented at the 18th International Conference on Conceptual Modeling ER 99 and arranged by the editors The plan of the conference is to cover the whole spectrum of conceptual modeling as it relates to database and information systems design and to offer a complete coverage of data and process modeling database technology and database applications The aim of the conference and of these proceedings is to present new insights related to each of these topics This book contains both selected and invited papers The 33 selected papers are organized in 11 sessions encompassing the major themes of the conference especially schema transformation evolution and integration temporal database design views and reuse in conceptual modeling advanced conceptual modeling business process modeling and workflows data warehouse design Besides the selected papers 3 invited papers present the views of three keynote speakers internationally known for their contribution to conceptual modeling and database research and for their active role in knowledge dissemination Peter Chen presents the results of his ongoing research on ER model XML and the Web Georges Gardarin presents the first results of an ESPRIT project federating various data sources with XML and XML QL Finally Matthias Jarke develops a way to capture and evaluate the experiences gained about process designs in so called process data warehouses Analysis and Comparison of Metaheuristics Erik Cuevas, Omar Avalos, Jorge

Gálvez, 2022-11-02 This book presents a comparative perspective of current metaheuristic developments which have proved to be effective in their application to several complex problems The study of biological and social entities such as animals humans or insects that manifest a cooperative behavior has produced several computational models in metaheuristic methods Although these schemes emulate very different processes or systems the rules used to model individual behavior are very similar Under such conditions it is not clear to identify which are the advantages or disadvantages of each metaheuristic technique The book is compiled from a teaching perspective For this reason the book is primarily intended for undergraduate and postgraduate students of Science Electrical Engineering or Computational Mathematics It is appropriate for courses such as Artificial Intelligence Electrical Engineering Evolutionary Computation The book is also useful for researchers from the evolutionary and engineering communities Likewise engineer practitioners who are not familiar with metaheuristic computation concepts will appreciate that the techniques discussed are beyond simple theoretical tools since they have been adapted to solve significant problems that commonly arise in engineering areas International Studies Notes, 1987

Mathematical Models in International Relations Dina A. Zinnes, John V. Gillespie, 1976 Monograph on mathematical analysis and models in international relations contains 18 contributions dealing with theories of international relations probability models simulation and decision making and presents applications to selected international problems such as international alliances conflict behaviour arms and OPEC Graphs and references International Journal, 1979 Yearbook of International Organizations 2004/2005 Union of International Associations, 2004 Symposium on Citizen Participation and Public Policy, 1984      Global Political Economy John Ravenhill, 2017 Global Political Economy offers a comprehensive introduction to the field by combining theory history and contemporary issues and debates The authors who are all leading international experts introduce readers to the diversity of perspectives in GPE through chapters that combine careful analysis with detailed empirical material New to this edition A rewritten chapter on the Global Trade Regime by Professor Ann Capling and Dr Silke Trommer Increased coverage of the rise of new actors especially the BRICs and the role of developing economies in global governance from back cover      The Analysis of International Relations Karl Wolfgang Deutsch, 1988 This book focuses on the decision making capability of nation states and their vulnerability to error as well as dramatic global changes and changes in the needs and behavior of large segments of the population The author examines theories of game and conflict general systems and communication and control New to this edition is a chapter dealing with international terrorism and clandestine warfare      Simulated International Processes Harold Steere Guetzkow, Joseph J. Valadez, 1981-04      Advances in Array Optimization Ertugrul Aksoy, 2020-03-04 The need to develop technology and communication necessitates the design of flexible and high capacity radiating systems in today's communication infrastructure In this context antenna arrays are the ideal solution and have been one of the priority research subjects of the science community dealing with electromagnetics from past to present Optimization of an array may be performed in various ways such as the optimization of excitation reflector structure feed network etc depending on the array structure This book is a collection of seven research studies focused on the optimization of array structures in classical phased array or time modulation including radiator reflector feed network and radiating element optimizations      The Asian Pacific Vera Simone, 2001 The Asian Pacific Second Edition provides a thought provoking introduction to both the internal and international politics of the fifteen mainland and island countries of East and Southeast Asia including Japan North and South Korea China and Vietnam Beginning with an examination of the colonial experience and its impact on the growth of nationalism and the formation of modern political and economic institutions the book utilizes cross national comparisons to illuminate the transformation of traditional cultures and their adaptation of Western ideologies For those interested in the political economic and cultural development of Asian Pacific countries
