

Organizational environment consists of both external and internal factors.

The environment must be from scanning and determine a development and prediction of the factors that can affect organizational success.

Environmental scanning means of possession and usury occasions, information patterns, trends, and in a relationship of enterprise internal and external environmental impact. It helps managers to decide the future path of organization, the company must confirm threats and opportunities exist in the environment. When strategy formulation, organization should take advantage of this opportunity and mitigate the threats. A threat to an institution may have the opportunity to another.

Internal environment is analyzed the first step of scanning environment. The organization shall abide by internal organizational environment. This includes staff and other employees, employee interactions and management, the manager interaction and other coach interaction, management and shareholders get natural resources, brand awareness, organization structure, key personnel and operating space. Meanwhile, discussions, interview and investigation can be used to assess the company's internal environment. Analyzing internal environment help identify strengths and weaknesses of an organization.

As business become more competitive and rapid changes in the external environment, information from the external environment of the key factors to increase effective long-term plan. As environment is dynamic, it becomes competitor move must identify and action. Organization also updates core competitiveness and internal environment according to the external environmental impact.
