Richards, 2024-09-18 Now in its second volume Regreening the Built Environment provides an overview of physical and social environmental challenges that the planet is facing and presents solutions that restore ecological processes reclaim open space foster social equity and facilitate a green economy Healing the planet requires a combination of strategies networked across multiple scales of development including buildings sites communities and regions Case studies from a range of locations in the United States Denmark Vietnam Germany South Korea Switzerland France and the United Kingdom among others demonstrate how existing gray infrastructure can be retrofitted with green infrastructure and low impact development techniques From this the author shows how a building can be designed that creates greenspace or generates energy likewise a roadway can be a parkway an alley can be a wildlife corridor and a parking surface can be a garden This new edition also includes case studies that have successfully reconnected communities that were fragmented by unjust planning practices and irresponsible patterns of development resilient design solutions in response to natural disasters passive design strategies that can make interior spaces more efficient and healthier and expanded discussions on capturing carbon renewable energy agriculture waste public transit and adaptive reuse including innovative ideas on how to reimagine the shopping mall in the era of e commerce The strategies presented in this book will stimulate discussions within the design profession and will be of great interest to students and practitioners of environmental studies architecture landscape architecture and urban design

Using Earned Value Alan Webb, 2003 Alan Webb's concise guide to the process of earned value provides practising project managers with everything they need to assess the appropriateness and benefits of the earned value process for their projects and their organization learn the techniques involved identify how to apply the data to manage projects with flexibility pragmatism and rigour plan for the introduction of earned value methodology anticipating both the systems and people problems they may face and reflecting on the different features and benefits of the various software packages available The book uses worked examples cases and anecdotes from the author's own extensive experience to bring this technical subject to life

Public Value and the Post-Pandemic Society Usman W. Chohan, 2023-07-07 The destruction of the Covid 19 pandemic has marked every society with deep seated wounds whose scars have only begun to heal Yet even as societies take their first steps away from the trauma of the pandemic they confront new and perhaps equally daunting challenges in the post Covid era These challenges offer a unique occasion to consider how the mechanisms of public value PV creation and preservation can be rebuilt and improved mindful of what has been left in the pandemic's wake and of the difficult road that lies ahead The aim of this book then is to examine the forward looking possibilities of multi stakeholder value co creation which involves the renewed efforts of civil society public managers politicians and society at large in a new post pandemic era The book examines many different facets that appeal deeply to public value scholarship value stability transitions inequalities within between public necropolitics disaster preparedness value measurement and sustainability all of which represent important explorations within public value theory and can greatly enrich PV research going forward This book will therefore be of use to both academics and practitioners of public administration and public policy as well as scholars of government health care policy and economics

Social housing has long been delivered through mixed economy mechanisms but there has been little focus in housing studies on what this means for housing organisations themselves This book presents recent international research applying concepts of social enterprise and hybridity to illuminate organisational behaviour in the housing sector It addresses critiques of the explanatory value of these concepts by exploring their underlying meanings and their application to diverse case studies worldwide The concepts are found to be most useful where they inform dynamic analysis of hybridisation and identify underlying change mechanisms rather than simply providing static descriptions of hybridity Various chapters in the book show how analysis can be enriched by drawing on institutional theory to develop concepts such as competing organisational logics trade offs between social and commercial goals and resource transfers The Book also looks at policy as a driver for hybridisation and to the regulatory challenges for policy systems that have come to rely on hybrid forms of delivery A research agenda is proposed building on these conceptual frameworks to develop systematic approaches to data collection and analysis to enable clearer and more consistent meanings to emerge This book was published as a special issue of Housing Studies
