Competition Law in Developing Countries Thomas K. Cheng, 2020-05-27 This book brings together perspectives of development economics and law to tackle the relationship between competition law enforcement and economic development It addresses the question of whether and how competition law enforcement helps to promote economic growth and development This question is highly pertinent for developing countries largely because many developing countries have only adopted competition law in recent years about thirty jurisdictions had in place a competition law in the early 1980s and there are now more than 130 competition law regimes across the world of which many are developing countries The book proposes a customized approach to competition law enforcement for developing countries set against the background of the academic and policy debate concerning convergence of competition law The implicit premise of convergence is that there may exist one or a few correct approaches to competition law enforcement which in most cases emanate from developed jurisdictions that are applicable to all This book rejects this assumption and argues that developing countries ought to tailor competition law enforcement to their own economic and political circumstances In particular it suggests how competition law enforcement can better incorporate development concerns without causing undue dilution of its traditional focus on protecting consumer welfare It proposes ways in which approaches to competition law enforcement need to be adjusted to reflect the special economic characteristics of developing country economies and the more limited enforcement capacity of developing country competition authorities Finally it also addresses the long running debate concerning the desirability and viability of industrial policy for developing countries The author would like to acknowledge the Research Grants Council of Hong Kong for its generous support The work in this book was fully supported by a grant from the Research Grants Council of Hong Kong Project No HKU 742412H

The Relevance of Philosophy Professor Sylvanus Nnoruka, 2022-12-14 The Relevance of Philosophy By Professor Sylvanus Ifeanyichukwu Nnoruka The Relevance of Philosophy defends the assertion that philosophy is not a theoretical irrelevant enterprise Philosophy is relevant to life and this book makes use of phenomenological and hermeneutical methods to offer solutions to the social political and economic problems in Africa specifically Nigeria With regard to Nigeria many are of the opinion that the problem is simply and uniquely that of leadership Others think it is ethnicity while some opine that it is lack of authentic education method The articles in the book tackle these and other relevant problems The authors recommend this book to all Nigerians and indeed every African The authors believe it is not enough to keep bemoaning the regrettable events of the past which have crippled Africa's development Rather through critical reasoning they aim to generate unique solutions to Nigeria's problems

Najibnomics: Transforming Malaysia to a High-Income Nation (UUM Press) Irwan Shah Zainal Abidin, 2016-01-04 This book attempts to understand Najibnomics economic policies advocated by the sixth Prime Minister of Malaysia Datuk Seri Najib Tun Abdul Razak since he helmed office on April 3 2009 Najibnomics refers to a new approach to Malaysia's economic development which is typified by three main characteristics knowledge innovation and freedom It is a set of strategies programmes and measures meant to transform Malaysia into a high income and developed nation by the year 2020 This book analyses Najibnomics in action or rather attempts to problematise Najibnomics at the level of its implementation Through Najibnomics the Malaysian government strives to keep the momentum of a sustainable growth trajectory to enhance the well being of the rakyat people and ensure the country gets out of the middle income trap to become a high income and developed economy by the year 2020

Economic Development Michael P. Todaro, Stephen C. Smith, 2006 Todaro and Smith believe that development economics should foster a student's ability to understand real problems faced by developing countries Unlike other texts Economic Development introduces economic models within the context of countries and issues so that students learn to analyze and engage in the ongoing policy debates Praised for its even balanced coverage the text helps students to evaluate issues using the best available cross sectional data economic theory and institutional and structural perspectives Keeping pace with current data and events the Ninth Edition includes the latest research in development as well as extensive country specific examples of topics such as transition economics and urban policy Reorganization from four parts to three provides a more streamlined sequencing for economic development courses All new country case studies target pertinent issues such as Divergent Development Pakistan and Bangladesh and Understanding a Development Miracle China Thoroughly updated and revised comparison case studies provide the most current illustrations of policy and its outcomes major development organizations New research on rural development economics and the green revolution in Chapter 9 Extended coverage of
