Running Family Michael Ondaatje:

Running in the Family Michael Ondaatje, 2011-08-09 In Michael Ondaatje's beloved family memoir fact and fiction blur to create a dazzlingly original portrait of a lost time and place Ondaatje left Ceylon now Sri Lanka at the age of eleven Almost twenty five years later he returned to sort out the recollected fragments of experience legend and family scandal and to reconstruct the carefree doomed life his parents and grandparents had led in a place where couples danced the tango in the moonlight where drink gambling and romance were the main occupations of the upper class Rich with eccentric characters and captivating stories and set against the exotic landscape of a colonial empire in decline Running in the Family is Ondaatje's unforgettable journey through memory and imagination to reclaim his past

Across the Lines Wolfgang Iser, 1988 This third volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the subject of intertextuality Intertextual relations between oral and written versions of literature text and performance as well as problems emerging from media transitions regionally instructed forms of intertextuality and the works of individual authors are equally dealt with Intertextuality as both a creative and a critical practice frequently exposes the essential arbitrariness of literary and cultural manifestations that have become canonized The transformation and transfer of meanings which accompanies any crossing between texts rests not least on the nature of the artistic corpus embodied in the general framework of historically and socially determined cultural traditions Traditions however result from selective forms of perception they are as much inventions as they are based on exclusion Intertextuality leads to a constant reinforcement of tradition while at the same time intertextual relations between the new literatures and other English language literatures are all too obvious Despite the inevitable impact of tradition the new literatures tend to employ a dynamic reading of culture which fosters social process and transition thus promoting transcultural rather than intercultural modes of communication Writing and reading across borders becomes a dialogue which reveals both differences and similarities More than a decolonizing form of deconstruction intertextuality is a strategy for communicating meaning across cultural boundaries

Michael Ondaatje Lee Spinks, 2013-07-19 Michael Ondaatje is the first comprehensive and fully up to date study of Ondaatje's entire oeuvre Starting from Ondaatje's beginnings as a poet this volume offers an intensive account of each of his major publications including The Collected Works of Billy the Kid Coming Through Slaughter In The Skin of a Lion and The English Patient drawing attention to the various contexts and intertexts that have informed his work The book contains a broad overview of Ondaatje's career for students and readers coming to his work for the first time It also offers an original reading of his writing which significantly revises conventional accounts of Ondaatje as a postmodern or postcolonial writer As the fullest account of Ondaatje's work to date Spinks's approach draws on a range of postcolonial theory and as well as being a landmark in Ondaatje scholarship makes a distinctive contribution to debates about postcolonial literature and the poetics of postmodernism

Running in the Family by Michael Ondaatje Steven Conte, 2004 Michael Ondaatje: Haptic

Aesthetics and Micropolitical Writing Milena Marinkova, 2011-07-14 This study of selected literary and cinematic works by Michael Ondaatje investigates the political potential of the Canadian author's aesthetics. Contributing to current debates about affect and representation, ideology critique and the artwork trauma and testimony, this book uses the concept of the haptic to demonstrate how Ondaatje's multisensory fluid and historically inflected writing can forge an enabling relationship between audience, author and text. This is where Ondaatje's micropolitics, often misconstrued as ideologically suspect aestheticism, emerges a praxis that intimates how one can write and read politically with a difference. Between Homelands in Michael Ondaatje's Fiction Julie Mehta, Harish Mehta, 2024-09-13 Between Homelands in Michael Ondaatje's Fiction is a comprehensive study of the novels of the Sri Lankan Canadian author and poet Michael Ondaatje. This survey of the Booker Prize winning novelist's works locates him as a powerful voice that urges globalization and multiculturalism in a world that is closing its borders. It reconnoitres Ondaatje's search for a homeland by cracking open the core of his evocative inventive and innovative concepts that undergird his art of storytelling. The contributors in this volume examine themes such as literary cosmopolitanism, Sri Lankan identity, diasporic identity, race and racism, home and belonging, trauma in the Sri Lankan civil war, war games and uncertainty theory. An important contribution to Ondaatje studies, the book is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of Sri Lankan literature, diasporic and world literatures, South Asian and Canadian studies, cultural studies, postcolonial fiction and history.

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time. General questions of the literary, as e.g. the relation between literature and reality, truth and fiction, the dependency of author, narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc. can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre. Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms. Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles, autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance. By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs, diaries, self-portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre, this three-volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches, systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective. While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition, special emphasis is placed on the modes of self-representation in non-Western cultures and on inter- and transcultural perspectives of the genre. The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross-references. The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies, students as well as non-academic readers.

Michael Ondaatje Douglas Barbour, 1993 Today as his richly metaphorical texts enjoy international renown, Ondaatje's fame is especially fascinating for he has neither followed trends nor played to any crowd. Instead, fulfilling his wish to start each new book with a new vocabulary, Unlike fellow writers Robert Kroetsch and George Bowering, Ondaatje dislikes discussing theory; it takes an appreciation as sharp and probing as Douglas Barbour's to enlighten us to the thoughts intentions and influences that have shaped Ondaatje's work his consistent movement into new territory and his masterful traversal through the modes of late modernism postmodernism and postcolonialism Barbour offers luminous readings of each of Ondaatje's books up to The English Patient 1992 a novel of international scope that is as much about the power of narratives as the power of passion Barbour illuminates Ondaatje's early alignment with Wallace Stevens and Robert Lowell as well as his later development in the Pound tradition A Very Special Excerpt from Michael Ondaatje's Running in the Family Michael Ondaatje,1982

Michael Ondaatje Ed Jewinski,1994 This illustrated biography offers a fascinating close up of the life and work of an extremely private artist Michael Ondaatje's life is as intense and at times as dramatic as his poetry and fiction a series of intense moments followed by ruptures and dislocations Express Yourself Beautifully covers Ondaatje's early years in Canada his university years his two marriages and the evolution of his professional life from the early 1960s to his winning of the Booker Prize for The English Patient in 1992 Michael Ondaatje Leslie Mundwiler,1984 In a survey that includes Ondaatje's fiction poetry and films Mundwiler proposes a pervasive tension in the writing between the filmic and the poetic and an implicit critique of conventional concepts of history Biography ,2001 The Annotated Bibliography of Canada's
