A Capitalist Nigger must embody ruthlessness in pursuit of excellence in his drive towards achieving the goal of becoming an economic warrior. In putting forward the idea of the Capitalist Nigger Chika Onyeani charts a road to success whereby black economic warriors employ the Spider Web Doctrine discipline self reliance ruthlessness to escape from their victim mentality. Nigerian Capitalism Sayre P. Schatz, 2024-06-14 Following a surge in oil revenues in the 1970s Nigeria became one of Africa's most rapidly developing nations. In Nigerian Capitalism Sayre P. Schatz analyzes the country's political economy assessing its position and proposing a development plan for the final quarter of the twentieth century. Referring to Nigeria's economic development strategy as nurture capitalism Sayre contrasts the role of private enterprise which is expected to foster growth of the productive sector of the economy with the government's role which is to nurture the capitalist sector generally and to favor indigenous enterprise in particular. The author examines the development of Nigerian nurture capitalism from 1949 to the launching of and early experience with the Third Plan 1975-80 with emphasis on the post civil war 1970s. He then turns to an intensive study of indigenous business and possible impediments to the development of Nigerian private enterprise analyzing the role of capital availability entrepreneurship and the economic environment. Sayre demonstrates that there are substantial divergences between private profitability and social utility and that there is an abundance of socially useful investment possibilities for indigenous businessmen. The author next turns to a study of the government business assistance programs and their economic administrative and political characteristics. Finally he assesses the sources of successful investment and makes a case for enhanced socially useful investments. Comparing pragmatic developmentalism pragmatic socialism and thoroughgoing socialism he proposes a pragmatic orientation that postpones ideological decisions as long as practicable. How does the social composition of interest and power illuminate the actualities and narratives of the Nigerian crisis How have the choices made by Nigerian leaders structured and or have been structured by the character of the Nigerian state and state society relations In what ways is Nigeria s mono product debt ridden dependent economy fed by the politics of plunder And what are the implications of these questions for the structural relationships of production reproduction and consumption This book confronts these questions by making state centric approaches to understanding African countries speak to relevant social theories that pluralize and complicate our understanding of the specific challenges of a prototypical postcolonial state This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary African Studies Empowering the People Richard A.
