Small Farmers for Global Food Security Thomas Reuter, Graeme MacRae, 2024-04-05 Food systems in Indonesia and worldwide have experienced major transformations in the wake of agricultural modernisation Once intact eco systems have declined dramatically along with human diets long term food security and social cohesion Using long term ethnographic research we documented this loss of traditional food systems in Java Bali East Timor and India but also a recent revival and reinvention of sustainable production methods and community based distribution systems A growing movement of small farmers now reject the dominant paradigm of aggressive capitalist development and are re creating food systems based on moral ecology a new concept we introduce to characterise food systems that regenerate the natural environment and serve the common good rather than maximise profit Small farmers like these already feed two thirds of humanity using only a third of agricultural land With proper support we argue they could feed the entire world using sustainable and socially responsible approaches to eradicate world hunger
